Dear Cousin Helen:

In responce to your letter via Danette, I was so glad to see your lineage compares with mine on Michael and my great^{3} grand father was a brother of your Benjamin. Joseph was born in Germany about 1731 and came to America with his father Michael, in 1734. I am enclosing some family charts, including Michaels will. This will lists the children with Joseph being the oldest (39 or 40) and Benjamin about 24 yrs. of age. I can not understand why Michael considered Benjamin as a minor but possibly he was still single and at home with his mother. My chart shows Benjamin born in Maryland but that is possibly wrong. Also that Benjamin might have been married twice. Birth of Isaac is same on your letter and my chart. These charts are copies supplied by Dr. Terry Kullbom (Oral Surgeon) 1st Cousin twice removed, Council Bluffs, Iowa. The letter on Michael and the Palatines was furnished by G, Arthur Luther, a step cousin once removed.

I have been wondering if Dr. William Young Fickel was a Mormon, because Glenwood was originally named Coonville after a Dr. Libeous Coon, a Mormon from Winter Station at Florence, Nebr. We also had a Mormon settlement in this Mills County known as Cutler's Camp and later they moved to a small settlement named Manti near Sidney in Fremont County.

My Fickel line is as follows:

Michael	Fickel		b.1709	Germany		d.1771	Md	father of
Joseph	"		b.1731	"		d.1813	Oh	" "
Joseph D.	"		b.1779	Md?Va?		d.1850	Oh	"'' "

Wm.Homer	"		b.1868	Oh		d.1954	Ia	" "
Gerald L.	"		b.1900	Ia				" "

2 dau. Joan and Jean.

I have a letter from G. Arthur Luther in one of his trip in the eastern USA about the Fickels in Pennsylvania but can not find it at present. If it shows anything of importance, I will send it to you. You may return any duplications to me. Enclosing some copies of Fickels in recent Mills County History Book so you wont feel that you are the last Fickel on earth. At 86 years, I am befuddled at times. Doc says I don"t have Alsheimers just because I can't find my car keys and don't remember where my glasses are. Tell me about your family.

Your ever loving cousin,

Gerald L. Fickel

William Young Fickle
(1825 - 1917)

William Young Fickle was born in Crawford county Ohio on November 5, 1825.

His early life was spent on the home farm, but not caring for farm life he chose the profession of physician and studied under Cr. Curtis and Dr. Cook and other eminent physicians of that day. He was married to Sarah Ann Fulkerson on June 2, 1855.

In 1860, Dr. Fickle and his wife and brother-in-law started across the plains, other families joining, making about a hundred families all together.

They travelled as far as Salt Lake City, where they spent the winter. In the spring of 1861 he travelled to Sacramento, California where he practiced as a physician for five years.

In 1866 he moved to Seattle, Washington. His health not being good at that place, he moved to Arcata, California in 1869, where he followed his profession for a number of years.

He later went into the shingle business for a number of years. Fickle Hill in Arcata is named after him for the shingle mill he operated there.

Not caring for that line of business he moved to San Luis Obispo County and homesteaded a farm, engaging in dairy farming until 1907, when he and his wife came to Blue Lake, Ca. to reside with his daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Greenwood. His wife passed away on February 12, 1909. He continued to reside with his daughter.

He passed away at the home of his daughter early Saturday morning on Jan 14, 1917. He was buried under the auspices of Odd Fellows in Blue Lake. He left a son - Alva Fickle, a daughter, Mrs. Greenwood of Blue Lake and one sister Mrs. Elizabeth Towers of Ohio.

Dear Raena-

Enclosed some things I have been going to send for a year. Am trying to dig out and start getting ready for Salt Lake City.

Talked to Caroline this week. She seemed to be better and continuing to improve and looking forward to your Visit.

Our weather has been just beautiful. We have been working in the yard alot. I'm trying to log in envelopes (giving them a #) Haven't done anything with the "stuff" inside yet-

The picture of John T. Fulkerson was given to me by Steve Leeds our new cousin. His mother was Minnie Fickle Leed, Miss. Alvey Fickles daughter. I will try to send a picture of him later. He and his wife are coming to visit us next week for an afternoon. He will be in the area on a business trip His wife has relatives in Santa Maria.

Dave cousin is coming from San Antonio Texas in about 2 1/2 weeks oh my, and my house is a mess.

Hope this finds you well and happy

Love
Nona and Dave

12 June 2011

Dear Ro,

Don't really know how to start with this, hope it doesn't come out a jumble to figure out, but here goes with what I have on Susan Emma Rutherford wife of Benjamin Jackson Fickle.

From the "Descendants of Uriah Beckley," granddaughter of ^{1} Uriah Beckley, ^{3} Margaret m. George McColloch Fickle. Their son, ^{4}Benjamin J. Fickle m. (2nd wife) Susan Emma Rutherford. (11 children)

From census I found Susan's parents (p.11) in 1870 lived in Tulare Co. Tule River Twp. and still in Tulare Co. in 1930. Susan was b. 1-3-1858 CA died 2-11-1937 CA. The profile page of Susan (p.ll) says she died in San Ragalio, CA but so far cannot find such a city. Have an email out to librarian at library in county seat, Visalia, asking about such a city. LDS library is closed Mondays so will try to go out Tuesday to refine all this.

Back to my Aunt Florence, I don't see how this is cousin she talked about as there, as far as I can see, no relationship here. Susan Rutherford's father was born in Tennessee & mother in Missouri. If there is a connection it must have been some other people - Unless, the Rutherfords comes from another ancestor somewhere in the Hayes line. I'll see if I can find old census of parents of Wm & Nancy Rutherford of CA to see where they were located before CA.
Page 12 gives me some clues to look for ancestors of Pres. Hayes, see where the Rutherford comes from.....

Now, back to Rebecca McColloch b.1772 d. 1807. She was about 26 years younger than Benjamin and as I've heard, that was quite normal back in the day.

She would have been about 18 years old when Michael G. L. was born. When I look at the naming in the three families, Fickle, McColloch, and Hedges, it could be very likely that Caroline was right. I just didn't look at it thoroughly enough to see the connections of all these families. It, also, is the first time I noticed that Rebecca was supposed to have died in Ohio Co. VA about 1807. Isn't that about the time that Benjamin went to Ohio?

Thursday, 23 June 2011

I don't think there is any connection between the Rutherford family and the Hayes. Susan's family goes back into Missouri, Tennessee, and back further to Virginia. Got a few documents from LDS, enclosed. Tried to see where the name Rutherford came into the Hayes family but it goes back about 2-3 generations and disappears.

In doing this work, found I have in Benjamin's children, Rachel born 11 Feb 1792 and George M. born 09 Apr 1792. Which is correct?

It was almost a shock to see how much the computer research has changed at LDS. Thank goodness there were helpers there or I'd have been lost.

This was a fun exercise to attack... Have you ever searched for Rebecca in Ohio County, VA? Do you think she is the "One"?

Well, anyway, you take care and have a great summer.

Love

Cuz Helen

The Hayes Family

After earning a law degree from Harvard University in 1845, Rutherford B. Hayes briefly practiced in Lower Sandusky, Ohio (present day Fremont). It was while visiting relatives in Delaware, Ohio, that the young lawyer first met Lucy Ware Webb. The daughter of a Chillicothe physician, Lucy was a recent graduate of Cincinnati Wesleyan Women's College. She and Rutherford courted for two years before marrying in Cincinnati on Dec. 30, 1852.

The couple briefly lived with Lucy's widowed mother, Mrs. Maria Cook Webb, before purchasing a home in Cincinnati. Their first child, Birchard Austin, was born November 4, 1853. Birchard became a prominent attorney in Toledo, Ohio. He died there January 24, 1926.

James

Webb Cook Hayes was born March 20, 1856, in Cincinnati. A career military man, he served in the Spanish American War, Philippine Insurrection, Boxer Rebellion, and World War I. Webb was awarded the Medal of Honor for his actions during the Philippine Insurrection. It was his efforts that led to creation of the Hayes Museum/Library. He died July 26, 1934, in Marion, Ohio.

His father's namesake, Rutherford Platt Hayes was born June 24, 1858, in Cincinnati. Rutherford Platt went on to become a librarian, bank executive, and real estate developer. He died July 31, 1927, in Tampa, Florida.

Joseph Thompson Hayes was born Dec. 21, 1861, in Cincinnati. His brief life came to an end June 24, 1863, while visiting his father's military encampment at Camp White, near Charleston, West Virginia.

Born September 29, 1864, in Cincinnati, while Rutherford B. Hayes was away fighting in the Civil War, George Crook Hayes was named for one his father's commanding officers. He was the second of three Hayes children to die in infancy - on May 24, 1866, in Cincinnati.

Fanny Hayes was born September 2, 1867, in Cincinnati, and instantly became her father's darling. The only daughter of Rutherford B. and Lucy Hayes, she was 10 years old when the family moved into the White House. Fanny's marriage to Harry Easton Smith ended in divorce after 22 years. The couple had one child. After the death of Lucy Hayes, Fanny became her father's constant companion. She re-assumed use of her maiden name after the divorce. Fanny died March 19, 1950, in Lewiston, Maine.

During the White House years, Scott Russell Hayes and his sister attracted much attention. Born February 8, 1871, Scott turned six years old a month before his father became President. Scott's adult life was spent as a business executive, working in electrical and railroad manufacturing. He died May 6, 1923, in Ossining, New York.

The last of the Hayes children, Manning Force Hayes was the only one born at Spiegel Grove. His brief life came to an end barely a year after it had begun. Manning was born August 1, 1873, and died August 28, 1874, in Fremont.

Subject: Fickles – too many Esthers....

From: helen smith (helenns@sbcglobal.net)

To: rbayes@cityofbryan.net;

Date: Monday, July 22, 2013 11:29 AM

Dear Roena,

Your packet came last Thursday and life was a little hecktic that week so decided to contact you after I could have time to quietly sit down and read it all.

This is all so great, did you find out what "Ellen's book" is? Jack at the Sacramento State Univ., emailed me the copies from Berkeley U.C. It turned out to be the same two pages as Vicki gave you. A brief history of John T. with list of children.

I would like to know if she happens to have a picture of Clarissa (Trux)Fulkerson?

Was getting ready to send you a Tree when I ran into some strange difficulties.
That sentence alone is "strange..." ...
I seem to have come up with too many Esthers. Michael's Esther b.1752, m. Wm Wilson, was their only child Elizabeth, b.1773 ?

Michael's dau Mary m. Robinette, I have four children - second marriage: Thomas Dunn, Jr. - 9 or 10 children. Esther is the problem as I have two of them. The only thing I can guess if that were true is the first one died and they named the second after her. Actually I think the second Esther is a mistake in my records. What do you say? Also, I have no info about all of their children other than names.

Lastly, spelling ? Naomi's daughters, Abby: m. Krkouse & Feeser, Margaret m. Flegle and Elizabeth m. Flegel, looks like typing error but can't find in my other records.

This is all driving me crazy - but I love it!!

Going to email Jess who helped me last year finding Alva's birthplace. He was with U. of Oklahoma Press at that time, and see if he can tell me anything about Captain Lane of the Wagon train listed in Vicki's works. He was working on the trails at that time and was interested in the southern route that they took.
Got a nice note from Caroline about my wanting to put her mother's poems into a little booklet, but I think she may be over estimating my talents and facilities.... Well, I will continue on with it as I can...

Will send the tree as soon as I clean it up a bit.

Love, Helen

The Computer said this message is too long & it is truncated.
So here we are w/ Snail mail →

I don't know if this email went out or not. Got one of those messages that it did not —?

Have couple more questions —

In your records, what did you do about Daniel, the one in Michael's will & married Westerfield? Maybe that's the way I should go — we mention the will, but I don't really know who Daniel is —?

(I'm also not acknowledging the McCullough's (if Rebecca is not Benji's wife ~~they~~ we are not related.)

Hope you can read this, writing on my lap during my "lay down after lunch" time.

Dear Roena,

Hope you are well and doing all the things you want to do......

I have been shredding papers and trying to get things cleaned out, guess Spring is around the corner. Hard for us Californian's to tell as we haven't had any winter yet. We're averaging somewhere in the 60's with low about mid thirty or forty. My gardener came through in past few weeks and pruned the roses, which was fine, but then he went on and 'scalped' everything else. I couldn't believe it. I just couldn't believe what I saw, or didn't, when I looked out the window one morning. Sent a note to his boss, just wanted him to see what happened.

Most of it will grow back, the Geraniums, Holly fern, miniature roses, and the Snow Ball shrub which will certainly not bloom in spring. Nothing there except two tall trunks.

I had some health problems in November and December, just couldn't figure out what was going on with me. There was about 6 weeks that I just could not get warm, and during that period my ear would plug up and then I sometime lost my equilibrium, along with not being able to think at times. All I wanted to do was sleep and rest. I kinda' blamed the thinking part onto getting too tired. So, to make a long story shorter went to Dr. and took my daughter-in-law, Donna, with me. She's real smart and knows a lot about the body. When we got out of Dr's. office we both agreed that I should change doctors. Sometimes he literally did not answer our questions, as though he did not even hear them. He arranged for me to have a neurological exam.

I called the U.C. Medical Group and they referred me to a Family Doctor. I wanted someone that knew more about old people than I thought this one does.

Helen and Roena:

The pages in the album are so fragil that we zeroxed them so that we would not have to handle it so many times. The album was given to me by Elizabeth Fickle Stiers (Betts). It belonged to her parents. Wm Y Fickle + Mary Campbell Fickle I wonder if they might have gotten it from Minnie Leeds, or Dulcy. It has so many pictures of Dulcy in it. Minnie and Dulcy were close. Also, on one picture in the front of album was written "Return to Minnie Leeds" Santa Cruz. Roena, Betts parents were Wm. Young Fickle and Mary Campbell Fickle. Mary is still alive in a resthome. But confused.

Page 4--Have not had a chance to dig out Van Nortwick info to see which generation these two ladies would be from. I am assuming whoever wrote cousin-great aunt- was of Aunt Minnie or Dulcies generation.

Page 6--Great Uncle-Bryan , Ohio. Hope Roena can throw some light on this picture. Wonder if it is a brother of Dr. Wm Young Fickle Page 7--We could not read first name of this lady, but also seems to be from Bryan, Ohio. How about it Roena?

John Fulkerson, we find lived in Jackson County, Oregon. We assume, Ellen , who wrote on back of picture would be Ellen Hiatt, his wife. Makes a trip to Jackson County sound fun.

Page 8__ Uncle. I think this man is a younger SJohn T. Fulkerson: Could the lady be Ellen Hiatt?

Page 9--We had a lot of difficulty reading the last name of these two young ladies. We could be wrong. They both seem to be wearing identical dresses--probably sisters.

Page 10--A handsome Alvey W. Fickle. Only picture I have seen of him without a beard, I believe.

Roena, Minnie Kimmel is Orpha's mother isn't she? She is the one that corresponded with Mary Campbell Fickle, Bett's mother. (Wm Young Fickles's daughter who gave me this album)

Page 19--James J. Watson was anna May Watsons brother-right?

Page 20---Boy, would SI love to see the missing picture of Alvey Fickle("Bill Knight) He is the brother of our mothers that changed his name.

Have no idea about this man. There had been some writing but it had been erased we could not read it. However in the front leaf of the journal (whats left of it) that Betts also gave me was a name written "SJacob Fickle, Jacksonville, Oregon. On the back the Photographer where the picture was taken was from Jacksonville. Could this man be Jacob Fickle and living there in Jacksonville where John Fulkerson lived? SOr could it be some relative of John Fulkerson or his wife Ellen? What an imagination I have.

Page 21--I wonder if this is the school Alveys kids all went to up on ##### York Mountain, near Templeton, where most of the kids were born?

Well, have fun and I hope you can solve some of my questions. Still disappointed because I did not get to 1Sacramento. I am feeling much better. Hope Roena had a good flight home. Want to get these on there way to you both. ##### Love Nona.

Elizabeth W. 'Bets' Stier

Elizabeth W. "Bets" Stier, of Santa Maria, Calif., died at 3:20 a.m., Sept. 28, 2004, at Marian Medical Center, after suffering a massive stroke Sept. 21, 2004.

At her request, private cremation has been held at Dudley-Hoffman Mortuary and Crematory. A Memorial service will be held at Grace Baptist Church, 121 W. Alvin, Santa Maria, Saturday, Oct. 2, 2004, starting at 1 p.m.

Elizabeth, better known to her friends as "Bets," was born Oct. 17, 1930, in Santa Maria, Calif., to William and Mary Fickle. She attended kindergarten through junior college in Santa Maria, and one year at Westmont College in Santa Barbara. She worked in the Audio Visual Department of Santa Maria Union High School, then as administrative secretary for the Allan Hancock College president until her retirement in 1975. She was married to Walter Stier in 1956, and was a loving and devoted wife and homemaker, loved and respected by all who knew her. She was deeply involved in her hobby of collecting Dollhouse Miniatures and arranging them in miniature rooms. She deeply loved her Savior, Jesus Christ, and was a regular attendee at Grace Baptist Church.

Elizabeth is survived by her husband of 48 years, Walt Stier; sister, Caroline Hall of Florence, Ore.; two nieces, Mary Schilling of Brandon, Fla.; Rosiland Faigle of Ventura, Calif.; and numerous cousins throughout the United States.

In lieu of flowers, it is suggested that contributions to her memory be made to the Building Fund of Grace Baptist Church, 121 W. Alvin, Santa Maria, CA 93458.

Arrangements are by Dudley-Hoffman Mortuary and Crematory.

Lorene Hicks

The long goodbye for Lorene Hicks ended Sept. 26, 2004. Lorene was born in Moody, Mo., in 1919, the oldest daughter of Ed and Mabel Matlock.

She grew up on a rural dairy farm, quitting school in the ninth grade to help her parents. The day before her 18th birthday, she married Joe Hicks, who would be her husband of 62 years until his death in May 1998. They came to California in the late 1930s, finally settling in Sisquoc and Joe worked for the Union Oil Company. They moved their family into Santa Maria in the early '50s.

Lorene was a homemaker who loved and cared for her family. She sewed, quilted, gardened, canned and cooked the most delicious meals. Our family celebrations were frequent. She had great humor and an unforgettable smile. The grandchildren were always staying at her home. She kept their dogs, their cats, and even the chickens for them. Lorene was active in her faith - a Sunday school teacher for many years at the Church of Christ. She helped provide and serve meals for the homeless.

Lorene is survived by her three children; son, Dale Hicks, of Yelm, Wash., his wife, Elaine and children, Scot Hicks, Kristen Hicks and Steffany Marshall; son Jerry Hicks of Santa Maria, his wife, Carolyn, and children, Rod Hicks and Cori Ferri; daughter, Janice Renfrow of Santa Maria, her husband, Eloy, and her children, Erin Beall Maas, Eric and Darren Beall. She is Great-Granny of 12 and has many beloved nieces and nephews.

She is also survived by her brother, Earl Matlock, of Festus, Mo., and wife, Marge; sister, Lois Fox of West Plains and husband, Ralph; brother-in-law, A.V. Langston; sisters-in-law, Jane Hicks Fenwick of West Plains and Lillian Hicks Holcomb.

She was preceded in death by her parents, her husband, her brothers, Clifford, Bob, and Melvin, and her sister, Helen Langston, all of West Plains.

Dear Alice,

I am enclosing two pictures to you and wonder if you can display them is some manner to see if they can be identified.

To give you a time scale, the writing on the pictures was done by my Aunt Minnie (Margaret Elizabeth Fickle) born in 1890, so the writing could have been done any time from 1920s to the 1960s. The only women in our family of the VanNorticks that I know is Clarissa Trucks/Trux who married Jasper Fulkerson and after his death married Peter VanNortick, and lastly married Samuel Shaffer. Clarissa was my Great Great Grandmother.

Identification for my file is on back of each picture. It is not necessary the pictures be returned to me. Thank you.

I will greatly appreciate any information on this.

Sincerely yours,

Encls.

Hi Roena,

Thought I might get a call to you over the holiday, but as you can see, I did not.

Hope you are well and enjoying the springtime.

If you have not, you will soon received a letter sent to Alice Meuleman, Secretary of WCGS regarding some pictures I sent to the society.

The pictures are from an album my aunt had and I can't help but feel that one of these ladies was Clarissa Trucks Fulkerson. Wish I had asked Ina when I had the chance.

I have been well with exception of a bout with pneumonia last March/April. I didn't like having it but in the long run it was kind of a blessing. The antibiotic I took for the pneumonia must have been powerful because, and I am giving it the credit, it must have killed something, bacteria, in my bronchi/lungs that had been the cause of my morning congestion and all that coughing. It is truly nice to get up every morning and not have that coughing problem, however, I am still using the inhaler for surety.

I had not intended to raise any tomatoes this summer but a friends gave me an Heritage plant, so have it potted and on front porch. Hope it produces for me.

An old correspondent, Jack, called me and is still working his Greenwood family. He is great great grandson of sister of Batchika, Caleb Greenwood's wife, father of James Case Greenwood who married Evalyn Fickle my great aunt. So, he is not related to us but has given us a lot of info on that family. There is a woman up in Humboldt Co., that is writing/compiling a write-up on early people of that county and Jack asked me to do the Fickles and Fulkersons, he will do the Greenwoods. This will be interesting.

Well, it's lunch time so talk to you later. Take care.

Love, Cuz Helen

On last Friday the gasoline launch owned and designed by W. F. Hunter & Dr. F. R. Horal, took its maiden plunge in the water of Fickle Slough. On acct of the shallow water in the slough difficulty was met with from the first, but by the assistance of bystanders the boat was taken to the mouth.

Oct. 27 - 1906 A petition was circulated the first of the week praying the Board of Trustees of the City of Arcata to fix a flood gate in Fickle Slough at the point where the city's sewer main now empties its contents. This action is asked on the part of the residents of the lower end of the city, and in fact by all persons who believe in sanitary conditions, to relieve if possible the obnoxious condition of affairs now existing in this particulr. It seems that the sewer in discharging its contents into the slough leaves all non-soluble matter on the mud surrounding its mouth. This affete matter is taken at the turn of the tide and carried up to with two or three blocks of the plaza, and in some instances ~~b~~Trances of it were seen up as far as the Nixon residence.

Now this as everyone knows is a thing not at all desireable and all join hands in a prayer for relief. But it seems that the relief, proposed for in the petition now circulating is not, according to the opinion of many, the best way to obliviate the nuisance. A flood gate will not hold the objectional matter, to warrent its cost, and to dam the slough will, on the other hand be unlawful. The only real relief is to extend the sewer main so far down into the bay as to render the return of objectional matter practically impossible. This may have its draw backs too.

Is there no possible way for the Town Trustees to remove that old scow out of the slough at the old Fickle Mill place? The old hulk fills up the entire slough where it lies, with the exception of a foot or two, and leaves no chance for a proper flow of water.

James Greenwood married Eva A. Fickle in Arcata on September 13, 1874. Rev. James Todd officiated at the ceremony. The story of her father will be continued from the Advocate: "Not caring for the shingle business, he next went to San Luis Obispo County, homesteaded a farm and engaged in dairying until 1907, when he and his wife came to Blue Lake to reside with his daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Greenwood. His wife died February 12, 1909. He continued to reside with his daughter here until the time of his death. He leaves a son, Alva Fickle, of southern California and one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Taver of Ohio."

Mrs. Sarah Ann Fickle received but a brief obituary, stating that she was a native of Ohio, aged seventy-three years, coming to Blue Lake from San Luis Obispo a few years previously. She was ignored completely in the overland trip. As there remain no members of the immediate family, it is impossible now to do her justice.

The James Greenwoods had two sons and a daughter. The eldest son, Temple, was born in Arcata September, 1876 and moved to Blue Lake with his parents when he was only three or four years old. At that time his father was running the Scottsville Hotel. In February, 1885, the papers announced, "J. C. Greenwood has gone out of the Scottsville Hotel and will engage in the stage business in the future from Blue Lake to Berry's place on Redwood Creek." He had earlier driven stage from Arcata to Blue Lake.

The second son, named Carl according to the names on a school picture, was a few years younger than Temple, who died in 1906. Carl also died while a youth, although I have no exact date. The only daughter, Dulcie, was born in 1891 and graduated from Humboldt Teachers College. She was on the faculty of the San Francisco schools for many years, [illegible] in July, 1948 at her [illegible] and her mother moved to Oakland in 1918, where the latter died in April, 1923 of influenza. Mrs. Greenwood has been mentioned heretofore in connection with the establishment of the Presbyterian Church and Sunday School in Blue Lake. In addition to her valuable aid in these fields, she gave music lessons to many children of this community, thus encouraging their cultural development as well as their [illegible] improvement.

James Greenwood was a talented violinist and his wife was the piano [illegible] for his popular orchestra. [illegible] was no doubt this love for [illegible] first attracted the two, [illegible] in every way. The son of [illegible] Greenwood, reared in the wilderness [illegible] the daughter of God-fearing [illegible] inevitably came to [illegible] of the way about January [illegible]tion. He was known as a man absolutely without fear and had many friends who sincerely mourned his passing.

Mr. Greenwood built the first house on Greenwood Avenue about 1884, even before the street was opened. It was the first house north of the present Civic Center, which was erected on former Charvin land, while James was on former William Scott land. On February 20, 1885, the Advocate disclosed that another new house was in the course of construction for Greenwood, under the supervision of D. Campbell. These two buildings formed a sort of double hotel until 1892, when one of the houses was moved to the other end of the lot, facing the Arcata and Mad River Railroad track. In March, 1894 J. L. Noe bought the house on Greenwood Avenue, and the Greenwoods moved to the house west of the present Civic Center. On May 1, 1920 Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Holcomb of Oakland purchased the home on the railroad.

In February, 1915, J. L. Noe bought the 62 acre ranch of Mrs. Margaret Green near Janes Creek and Mr. C. Golter of Lincoln, Nebraska purchased the former Greenwood property on Greenwood Avenue. The Clyde Nielson family now live in this dwelling, having purchased it from the Golter estate in 1942. The original well was still under the pantry floor, a relic from the days of the hand pump in the house. Mrs. Nelson said the children were fascinated with the large sliding doors which connected the living room with two other rooms, but because they proved too drafty they were replaced with modern doors. Sliding doors are now coming back into fashion, but no doubt with improvements.

The sixty-year old fireplace had begun to sink from the weight of years and had to be torn down. This proved to be a fortunate move, for the timbers facing it were scorched where the fire had reached between the cracks. And so the old Greenwood Hotel belies its age, with each successive dweller making improvements on the landmark and keeping it in good repair.

The picture of Pioneer Fickle with his daughter and granddaughter was taken by my brother, the late Walter Baker, when he was fifteen years of age. My mother carefully recorded the date in connection with the print. "Taken February 28, 1915 at 1 p. m." Mr. Fickle was ninety years old in the November following the day he was photographed.

BECAUES OF THE very recent interest in the Fickle Hill area, I thought it might be of interest to note here some of the things that "used to be" - now only a vague memory in the minds of the pioneers of the area, and very little of which was ever recorded. This area was at one time heavily covered with huge Redwood trees - comparable to the stands in our memorial groves. There are many people who remember this, and the size and great number of stumps remaining bear witness to the fact. Long before redwood lumber was in such demand, however, the Trinity mining area was booming. During this period suplies were transported via man power, mule train, pack horse, or any other available conveyance.

ONE ROUTE WAS "over the hill to Blue Lake and was known as the Mad River Trail. It was only recently discovered that the present road to Fickle Hill had never been designated as any other than the "Mad River Trail" in Humboldt County records. My home has the distinction of being situated where [illegible] branch of the trail turned [illegible] the hill to Blue Lake - [illegible] are still depressions to [illegible] the path and we have recovered numerous pieces of equipment that were strewn along the way. Had we not been aware of the existence of such a trail, we would not have been able to distinguish it because of the logging operations that have been carried on here.

FICKLE HILL was named [illegible]r the pioneer William Young Fickle. He was born in Ohio in [illegible]25 and died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Greenwood of Blue Lake, on January 20, 1917. He was raised on a farm in Ohio, but studied medicine under Dr. Cur[illegible]re and Dr. Cook - eminent [illegible] of that day, to become a physician.

DR. FICKLE AND his wife crossed the plains in 1860, arriving in Sacramento in 1861. The hardships of the trip are described in a small notebook with entries by Dr. Fickle and cramento until 1866 when he moved to Seattle and then to Arcata in 1869. He followed his profession in Arcata for a number of years, then in 1873, with his son A. W. Fickle, he established a shingle mill in Arcata "capable of turning out 40,000 shingles per day, run by steam being supplied with an engine of 24 horsepower, and employing 10 men".

BECAUSE OF THE great depression of this period, the Fickles became involved in debt and were forced to move their mill to a site "about 2 miles east of Arcata on a timbere laim which they owned". The mill operated there until 1897, when the Fickles sold their interests and moved to San Luis Obispo. While the Fickle family could be referred to as "some old family", in the interest of preserving the history of this area, I think it is more fitting to call them pioneers. They certainly contributed a large share to the health, welfare and economy of Arcata in its early years as well as to the Fickle Hillarea and Blue Lake, where the Greenwoods - Mr. Fickle's daughter Evelyn's family - were very prominent citizens as early accounts of the activities in this then very important comunity have shown. I also have a personal interest in the preservation of the facts, since my home is on the site of the original cook house that served the Fickle Mill - may even have been the home of the Fickles although there are no records to show where they lived. It also served as headquarters for the Harpst and Springs logging operations that were carried on at a later date. The site of the mill is still distinguishable because the area is covered with brick and scrap iron and other debris incidental to a mill. Other buildings in this area that have long since disappeared were evidence of a thriving settlement at one time.

NO COMMUNITY can exist without a school, and although the Cedar Springs school on Fickle Hill has long since slipped into oblivion, it is still fresh in the memory of the early residents (and [illegible] not dersons with 3, the Paddy Leveques with 3, and the Waters with 2, felt it was necessary to see to the education of their children, the school was established with the required 16 pupils in a make-shift building with used furniture and - as those who attended can remember - no stove and of course no other equipment.

A SCHOOL REGISTER now in the possession of the Carroll family covering the first two and one half years at Cedar Springs reveals that Miss May Halloran of a pioneer Eureka family was the first teacher. Her first pupils were Jim, Mary, Joe, John, Dan, Matt, and Annie Carroll, Charlie and Minnie and Peter Anderson, Lelia, Charlie and Winnifred Leveque, and M[illegible] and Frank Waters. Grades [illegible] through 7 - with children ranging in age from 6 to 15 years were represented. It was classified as a Primary School, but in its third year the [illegible] grade was taught. The monthly salary was $60.00. The first year there were 20 books valued [illegible] $9.80 (total value). [illegible] year the number had grown to 35 volumes. School was in session from May to November - then recesed until spring with the term ending in July or late June to resume again in early August. The register ends with the turn of the century - Dec. 1899. Keepers of the register for the second and third year were Gertrude Dalton and Alice Quinn (Cloney). Others to follow were Nell Powers (Broderick), Jessie Dodge, Ethel Langford (Esi[illegible]), Bessie Lord (Lytel), Jessie Ross (Moxon), Ruth Hill (Foltz), Zita Crogan, Rhea Sage, Daphne Parton, Katherine Carroll (Patton), Charlie Mahoney, and Clara Mahoney (Carroll) to mention a few. There were few transfers in all the years the school existed. A new building was provided in 1903 - with all of the "conveniences" - a shelf for the water pail, roller towels, a new dipper, real coat hooks! Miss Frances [illegible] saw thee losing of the school in 1917-18 with one pupil in attendance - the population having succumbed to the call of thee ity school [illegible] memory of my family are the days spent at Cedar Springs School. The days when a huge St. Bernard dog was the transportation and the protection of the family on the way to school. Later, when the teacher came to school on Monday in a new Ford and if luck was with them, the kids could have a ride. Teachers rode to school on horseback - (I can remember when). Fresh in my memory are the mornings when Mrs. Carroll would bee oming home from town in her cart, and the littlest "kids" were allowed to ride. (If we knew she was on the way we would wait along ther oad). We all remember when the County Superintendent came to visit and the things we were required to do to prove that we were getting an education. Then there were the days when it rained and all of the dogs (everyone had at least one to bring to school) slept peacefully under the hot iron heater in the middle of the room - and if a passerby made the least noise the clamour of the dogs to be first out of the door was something to behold! (There were those who were aware of this and made it a practice to cause the disturbance). There was a spring that suplied the neighbors cattle as well as the school and was often too muddy tou se - but the frog eggs that it produced in the spring!

THOSE OF US who remain and others that have moved away recently - or even many years ago - feel that we have shared in making history in Humboldt County - no less than if we had lived in some famous place among famous people. I am happy to have been a small part and to have shared even a little in its history - some of the things we experienced as we grew up on Fickle Hill were unusual even in that time, and will certainly never be experienced by another generation. No matter what it may become - it will always be "Fickle Hill" to me, and there are many who share my feeling.

Gentlemen:

Recently while I was in Humboldt County on a brief visit, I met a person belonging to a historical society there. She was uner the impression that your puoication would like the story of how Fickle Hill got its name. I promised her that I would send it.

I think the name originated from Holland, as my father's people were Holland Dutch. They setled in Ohio and Michigan, and came west in a covered wagon caravan in the year of 1860. Arrived in Sacramento 1861

My father was born in a covered wagon when they were coming through Utah.

HISTORY OF FICKLE HILL

About the year 1868 the William Young Fickle family came by ship from Seattle, Wash. to Humboldt County. They settled at Arcata. Dr. William Y. Fickle practiced medicine in and around Arcata.

Dr. Fickle and his young son established a shingle mill on the hill that has ever since that time been known as Fickle Hill.

They also opeated a schooner to take their shingles out from the bay over the bar to the freighter ships.

Dr. Fickle's son, Alvey W. Fickle, was only about 20 years of age when he first served as captain of the schooner.

Dr. Fickle and his wife, Sarah, spent their last days in Blue Lake, Humboldt County, and are buried in the Blue Lake Cemetery. He fell only about three or four years short of living 100 years.

The Greenwood Brothers, William, Boggs, James and Britt, settled in this area in the late 1840's, and they say it was Britt who had led rescuers to find the survivors of the ill-fated Donner Party."

The best account of Caleb Greenwood, the father, which I have come across, was contained in "Gold Rush" by J. G. Bruff. "The Greenwood Family has long presented one of the minor puzzles of early western days. It may be assumed that he was born in Virginia, of Colonial English stock. All agree that Caleb Greenwood was a mountain man and a trapper, married a Crow Indian by whom he had several children. In 1844, being then over eighty, Caleb guided the Stevens-Townsend-Murphy party to California, the first wagon over Greenwood's Cut-off. William Sublette soon became identified with this short cut and it was later called Sublette's Cut-off.

" The children of Caleb Greenwood were Joseph, John, Britt, Bailey, William, James Case, Angeline and Sarah, besides three more—Boggs, Davy Crockett and Sam—which may have been nicknames for some of those in the first list. The oldest son, Joseph, is said to have remained in Montana and never came to California."

David Crockett had been born in 1786 in Tennessee and had already become a popular hero by the time Greenwood was married, around 1810. Caleb, a Virginian, might easily have known Crockett personally and named one of his sons Davy Crockett Greenwood. If only James Greenwood had written an autobiography, these minor puzzles would have been solved, and of greater importance, more definite information would be available today of the period in California before the gold rush.

James Greenwood was married to Eva A. Fickle in Arcata on September 13, 1874 by Rev. J. James Todd. The bride was the daughter of William and Sarah Ann Fickle, natives of Ohio. In 1860 the Fickles had started across the plains for California. They traveled as far as Salt Lake City, where they spent the winter. In the spring of 1861, they arrived in Sacramento, where William practiced as a physician for five years. He had studied medicine under local physicans near his home. . . . .

In 1867, the Fickles were in Arcata, according to the following advertisement, which was carried in the Humboldt Times on September 7 of that year. "Dr. William T. Fickle—Botanic Family Physician. Mrs. Fickle will attend to all cases of obstetrics. References: Professor W. H. Cook, Cincinnti." The eldest son of the couple died in Arcata on November 29, 1868 of scarlet fever, at the age of twelve years. In 1873, Mr. Fickle purchased two acres of Elias Sharp, on which he built a shingle mill. The Times of December 8, 1876, contained this item. "Near the railroad and a short distance below town is the shingle mill. This is an institution recently started and bears the name of the owner, William Fickle. The mill is capable of turning out 40,000 shingles per day and is run by steam, being supplied with a 24-horse power engine. Ten men are employed in the mill. Later Fickle conducted a mill on Fickle Hill, which received its name from him. In November 1881, Alexander Preston purchased all the property Fickle owned. The Fickle family moved to San Luis Obispo County, where they dairied on their homestead until 1907, when they moved to Blue Lake to reside with their daughter, Mrs. Greenwood.

On January 25,1879, James Greenwood announced that there would be a social dance at the Scottsville Hotel on the night of the 14th of February, and promised to provide good music for the St. Valentine's Day dance. Usually such announcements were made by the manager of the hotel, consequently it is assumed that Greenwood was acting in that capacity. But as he was also a skilled violinist, he was no doubt the leader of the orchestra on that occasion. His wife was equally as musical, serving as pianist, accompanying the orchestra.

Before leaving James Greenwood for the present, two additional items will be mentioned. Although at the time under discussion, no trails crossed William Scott's farm, one of the first roads which would later appear, would be named Greenwood Avenue, after James Greenwood. And just as the son is honored by having his name given to one of the main thoroughfares of our city, so the father, Caleb Greenwood is honored in A. B. Guth-rie's famous novel, "The Way West." One entire chapter is devoted to the sending of Caleb to Fort Hall by Sutter, to divert to California the Oregon emigration of 1846.

The record of Scottsville in the middle 1870's is meagre. The Times discussed the unusual weather in its May 21, 1876 issue. "Yesterday morning both Liscom Hill and Brown's Prairie were covered with snow. This fell during the storm of the previous night. We have asked a number of the oldest settlers and some who have been in the stock raising business for many years and none remembers of any snow falling as late as the 20th of May. The atmosphere was very cold both Friday night and yesterday morning." Brown's Prairie is now known as Kneeland Prairie. It was still called the former name in 1876, because James H. Brown had resided there in the early days.

The Times of March 30, 1874 said: "Three young men on Mad River with four young ladies attempted to cross the river on their way to a dance. They had only one canoe; two of the young men took two young ladies over, and in returning for the others, the boat dipped water so often, they dared not cross again; and so the two ladies went to the dance, and had not been heard from by their disconsolate swains at last accounts." The dance must have been one of those held at the Scottsville Hotel, and the canoe was evidently plied between West End and the north bank of Mad River.

If one of these young men was Grandpa - he would have only been 14 years old.

An account of one of such dances appeared in the same newspaper, December 8, 1877. "How good the people of Scott's Ranch felt on the holidays may be judged from the fact that at a social dance there on Thursday evening last, Thanksgiving, dancing was continued not only until the wee, small hours, but until the sun had shown itself in resplendent glory on the eastern horizon. The clock registered the hour of 8:30 a.m. and my informant states even at that time it required persuasion to get the dancers to quit for breakfast. That's stamina for you."

There were also tragic events then as now. One of the most shocking accidents was recorded in the Times of September 9, 1876. "J. Monroe Light, driver of Crogan and Cave's coach, informed us that the house on Mad River, belonging to F. Spence, burned to the ground Wednesday night and stated the particulars as follows; Mr. Spence left his home Wednesday evening in charge of his two children, a boy and a girl. He came down to Arcata to arrange some business matters and remained over night.

"Thursday morning, after eating breakfast, he started to return. Arriving where his home once was, he found a pile of blackened and charred timbers. His thoughts then turned to the children that he had left in charge. He hunted for them in the woods, called for them, but they were no where to be found. On thing more remained for him to do; that was to search the ruins. He did so, and his worst fears were realized. There were the remains of his two children.

There is no way of learning how the fire originated, the secret probably being shut up with those whose sprits have gone to that other world. It cannot be that there are men here who would set fire to a house here in Humboldt County and to save detection, allow two innocent children to perish in the flames. It is thought by a great many that the fire was started inside of the house by the children, they probably not having had sufficient experience to teach them the absolute necessity of keeping the fiery element within its bounds. After the fire had started, their fear and excitement were so great, the thought of self-preservation did not enter their heads." The Spence farm was located on the road leading from the former Glendale schoolhouse up Liscom Hill. On January 20, 1906 Charles Spence and wife sold to Barbara Kemp and Lena Gerig, the southwest quarter of the southwest quarter, section 18, Township 6 North, Range 2 East.

William Young Fickle and His Daughter, Evelyn Greenwood

Pioneer Fickle was well known in Arcata, as he was living there before moving to Blue Lake. His daughter Mrs. James Greenwood, was mentioned in the article on the Greenwood family which appeared two years ago in this series. Thanks to the kindness of Mrs. Louis Schmidt it is possible to give details of the overland trip to California of the Fickles, as recorded in a small note book. The entries are brief, mentioning the distance covered each day, the condition of the roads and recording the advantages or disadvantages of the campsites. Water was the prime requisite for the latter, with fuel second in importance. Feed for the animals was a necessity of course. Only a few quotations from the diary will be used, as it deals chiefly with bare facts, more or less repetitious in nature.

only a few quotations be used facts

The early life of Fickle has been obtained from his obituary in the Blue Lake Advocate of January 20, 1917 and may glamorize his medical training, which must have been rudimentary. "Early Saturday morning, William Young Fickle died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Greenwood, in Blue Lake after a brief illness due to old age. He was buried Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the Blue Lake lodge of Odd Fellows, Rev. C. J. Irwin officiating. The pallbearers were Daniel Baldwin, Louis Schmidt, M. T. Hill, J. Parton, R. A. Redmond and H. Cousins.

"He was born in Crowford County, Ohio, November 5, 1825. His early life was spent on the home farm, but not caring for farm life, he chose the profession of physcian and studied under Dr. Curtis and Dr. Cook and eminent physicians of that day. He was married to Sarah Ann Fulkerson on June 2, 1855. In 1860, Dr. Fickle, his wife and brother-in-law started across the plains, other families joining, making about a hundred families altogether. They traveled as far as Salt Lake City, where they spent the winter. In the spring of 1861 he came to Sacramento, where he practiced as a physician for five years. In 1866 he moved to Seattle, Washington. Health not being good at that place he came to Arcata in 1869, where he followed his profession for a number of years. He then went into the shingle business for a number of years."

Crawford County

According to the Humboldt Times' Fickle was in Arcata as early as 1867, for on September 7 of that year the paper carried this card: "Dr. William Y. Fickle — Botanic Family Physician. Mrs. Fickle will attend to all cases of obstetrics. Reference, Professor W. H. Cook, Cincinatti."

The first entry in the little journal was dated May 3, 1860: "Left Sidney, Fremont County, Iowa and arrived in Boulder the ninth of May. Pleasant trip. Left Boulder May 10 for Washer Valley. Camped on Boulder River. Rain.

July 18, 1860. Roads very rough and broken. Camped on a clear rocky stream. Are in sight of the mountains all the time.

July 19, 1860. Traveled eight miles. Roads tolerable. Saw snow all day, not far off.

July 21. Traveled nineteen miles. Roads good, mostly level with some rock. Reached the Platte River. A natural stone fence adorns one side of the river from ten to fifty feet high, for several miles. Rested Sunday.

July 23. Rested and washed on the Platte River waiting for the river to fall.

July 26. Traveled fifteen miles over hilly roads, through Bridger's Pass. Camped on muddy creek. Passed a grave of a man drowned in this stream, the name of Leowley.

July 28. Camped by a spring of mineral water, called the Bitter Spring. Passed a rock in the shape of a hay stack. No grass.

August 4. Came ten miles. Crossed Green River on a flat boat, price two dollars per person. Camped opposite the Red Buttes. Saw a man that had been in the mountains since he was twenty years old. Could speak five languages, but could not read or write. Name — John Meanard. The river is not as wide as the Platte, but deeper and cleaner. Have nice fresh water and good grass.

August 6. Camped on the north bank of the Green River. Plenty of grass and water. The ferryman has joined our company together with his mountaineer.

August 12. Camped in a quaking aspen grove. Passed four graves today.

August 16. Saw some of the nicest springs I ever saw coming out of the mountains. Some of the water tasted like slate, some of sulphur and one of salt.

September 2. Stayed all day. Captain's lady gave birth to a son.

September 3. Started in the afternoon. Traveled all night. Came twenty miles. Good roads. Good water and grass. Some wood.

September 26. Drove sixteen miles. Terrible roads. Camped in Carson Valley. The valley is large and level here. Carson Lake is a large sheet of water and looks beautiful.

October 3. This morning the mountains are covered with snow and present a beautiful scene. The mountains here are covered with pine. The leaves are as green as in summer.

October 14. Drove twelve miles. Good roads, no grass, good water. Passed the Mother of the Forest. It is 327 feet high, circumference 78 feet.

October 30. Arrived in Mokelumne City.

Here is a conflict with the opening account of Fickle's life, which states he spent the winter in Salt Lake City. It is true that the penciled [illegible] in the journal was faded and indistinct and some words were impossible [illegible] deciphered such [illegible] interesting [illegible] it mentioned: "A lot of Shoshone Indians were around the camp [illegible] trading [illegible] for bread and powder and lead [illegible]." Perhaps Fickle made an earlier trip across the continent, although this is unlikley.

At least there is no difficulty after Fickle established his mill in following the story of his life. In 1873 he purchased property below the Marsh House in Arcata of Elias Sharp and John W. Skinner in blocks 73 and 88. The Humboldt Times of December 8, 1876 carried an item concerning this business venture. "Near the railroad and a short distance below the town is the Fickle shingle mill. This is an institution recently started and bears the name of the owner, W. Y. Fickle. The mill is capable of turning out 40,000 shingles per day, is run by steam being supplied with an engine of 24-horse power. Ten men are employed in the mill." This paints a rosy picture, but the Superior Court records show another and gloomier aspect. A. M. Preston moved to foreclose his mortgage on the property in 1883 and W. Y. Fickle and his son, A. W. Fickle, entered a petition to the Court as follows:

"That said firm of Fickle and Son has been engaged in the business of manufacturing shingles for more than six months; that since December, 1876 said firm has been so engaged in business that they had but a small capital to commence the construction of a shingle mill and to purchase the necessary machinery and thereby became largely involved in debt. In 1876 and for several years thereafter there was a great depression of business and said firm ran behind and became quite largely involved in debt. That subsequently they were compelled to move their mill, which entailed large expense."

This last statement was also mentioned in the Times of October 29, 1881: "W. Y. Fickle and Son will move their shingle mill about two miles east from Arcata to a timber claim owned by the Messrs. Fickle." This location was on the north half of the northwest quarter of section 35, Township 6 North, Range 1 East. Consequently the hill on which this mill was built became known as Fickle Hill.

May 16, 1883 the Court ordered the mortgaged premises sold at public auction under direction of the sheriff. O. H. Spring, John Harpst and Slyvester Myers were the highest bidders, purchasing the property for $3000.00. A. M. Preston's mortgage was for the sum of $2,700, so that the property had been mortgaged to the hilt.

There had been a short interval previous to this final failure when hope flared briefly. The West Coast Signal of October 29, 1897 said: "The shingle mill of Fickle and Son, Arcata, started up this morning after a long rest on account of low prices. They, with all other engaged in the business, hope for brighter times and better prices soon, and when there is a demand, Fickle and Son's manufacture bring the highest ruling rates."

The Fickle family must have lived on the west side of F street between 8th and 9th streets from 1867 to 1876 when they probably moved on their land near the mill. I do not have the date when they purchased lots 15 and 16, block 166, but on May 6, 1876 Mr. Fickle sold the two lots to John Freeman for $500. Here their eldest son, William, died of scarlet fever on November 29, 1868, aged twelve years and seven months.

"They said firm of Fickle and Son has been engaged in the business of manufacturing shingles for more than six months,' then since December, 1872 said firm has been so engaged in business that they had but a small capital to commence the construction of a shingle mill and to purchase the necessary machinery and thereby became largely involved in debt. In 1878 and for several years thereafter there was a great depression of business and said firm was behind and became quite largely involved in debt. That subsequently they were compelled to mortgage their mill, which entailed large expense."

This last statement was also mentioned in the Times of October 28, 1881: "D. Y. Fickle and Son will move their shingle mill about two miles west from Arcata to a timber claim owned by the Messrs. Fickle." This location was on the south half of the northeast quarter of section 32, Township 6 North, Range 1 East. Consequently the hill on which the mill was built became known as Fickle Hill.

May 16, 1883 the Court ordered the mortgaged premises sold at public auction under direction of the sheriff. O. H. Spring, John Harpst and Sylvester Myers were the highest bidders, purchasing the property for $2000.00. A. M. Preston's mortgage was for the sum of $2,700, so that the property had been mortgaged to the hilt.

There had been a short interval previous to this time when hope flared briefly. The West Coast Signal of October 25, 1882 said: "The shingle mill of Fickle and Son, Arcata, started up this morning after a long rest on account of low prices. Now, with all others engaged in the business, hope for brighter times and better prices soon and when there is a demand, Fickle and Son's manufacture will bring the highest ruling rates."

The Fickle family must have lived on the west side of F street between 11th and 12th streets from 1867 to 1870, when they probably moved on their land near the mill. I do not have the date when they purchased lots 11 and 16 block 100, but on May 6, 1870 M. Fickle sold the two lots to John Bowman for $1600. Here their eldest son, William, died [illegible] on November 26, 1869, aged [illegible] years and seven months.

September 2. Stayed all day. Capt. [illegible] lady gave birth to a son.

September 3. Started in the afternoon. Traveled all night. Came [illegible] miles. Good roads. Good water and grass. Sand road.

September 10. Drove sixteen miles. Tolerable roads. Camped in Carson Valley. The valley is large and good land. Carson Lake is a large sheet of water and quite beautiful.

October 3. This morning the mountains are covered with snow and present a beautiful scene. The mountains here are covered with pine. The leaves are as green as in summer.

October 14. Drove twelve miles. Good roads, no grass, good water. Passed the Mother of the Forest. It is 321 feet high, circumference 78 feet.

October 29. Arrived in Mokelumne Hill.

Here is a conflict with the opening account of Fickle's life, which states he spent the winter in Salt Lake City. It is true that the [illegible] in the [illegible] and [illegible] each [illegible] "A lot of [illegible] around the camp [illegible] be found and [illegible] Perhaps [illegible] Fickle established his mill in following the story of his life. In 1873 he put such property before the State House in Arcata of [illegible] and John W. Bellamy in blocks [illegible] and 83. The Humboldt Times of December 8, 1876 carried an item concerning this business venture. "Near the [illegible] and a short distance below [illegible] is the Fickle shingle mill. The mill is capable of turning out 40,000 shingles per day, is run by steam, being supplied with an engine of 24 horse power. Ten men are employed in the mill." This paints a very pretty picture but the Superior Court records show another and plaintiff's action. A. M. Preston moved to foreclose his mortgage on the property in 1882 and D. Y. Fickle and his son, A. W. Fickle, entered a petition to the Court as follows:

James Greenwood married Eva A. Fickle in Arcata on September 13, 1874. Rev. James Todd officiated at the ceremony. The story of her father will be continued from the Advocate: "Not caring for the shingle business, he next went to San Luis Obispo County, homesteaded a farm and engaged in dairying until 1907, when he and his wife came to Blue Lake to reside with his daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Greenwood. His wife died February 12, 1909. He continued to reside with his daughter here until the time of his death. He leaves a son, Alva Fickle, of southern California and one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Tower of Ohio."

Mrs. Sarah Ann Fickle received but a brief obituary, stating that she was a native of Ohio, aged seventy-three years, coming to Blue Lake from San Luis Obispo a few years previously. She was ignored completely in the overland trip. As there remain no members of the immediate family, it is impossible now to do her justice.

The James Greenwoods had two sons and a daughter. The eldest son, Temple, was born in Arcata September 1876 and moved to Blue Lake with his parents when he was only [illegible] four [illegible]. At that time [illegible] Scottsville [illegible] in Febeuary, 1885, the papers announced, "J. C. Greenwood has [illegible] out of the Scottsville Hotel and will engage in the stage business in the future from Blue Lake to Berry's place on Redwood Creek." He had earlier driven stage from Arcata to Blue Lake.

The second son, named Carl according to the names on a school picture, was a few years younger than Temple, who died in 1906. Carl also died while a youth, although I have no exact date. The only daughter, Dulcie, was born in 1891 and graduated from Humboldt Teachers College. She was on the faculty of the San Francisco schools for many years, passing away in July, 1948 at her home in Oakland. She and her mother moved to Oakland in 1918, where the latter died in April, 1923 of influenza. Mrs. Greenwood has been mentioned heretofore in connection with the establishment of the Presbyterian Church and Sunday School in Blue Lake. In addition to her valuable aid in these fields, she gave music lessons to many children of this community, thus encouraging their cultural development as well as their spiritual improvement.

James Greenwood was a talented violinist and his wife was the piano accompanist for his popular orchestra. It was no doubt this love for music which first attracted the two, so unlike in every way. The son of Caleb Greenwood, reared in the wilderness, and the daughter of God-fearing Ohio natives, inevitably came to the parting of the way about January 25, 1907. In November, 1908 James took his own life. Financial troubles were the main reason for his depression. He was known as a man absolutely without fear and had many friends who sincerely mourned his passing.

Mr. Greenwood built the first house on Greenwood Avenue about 1884, even before the street was opened. It was the first house north of the present Civic Center, which was erected on former Chartin land, while James was on former William Scott land. On February 20, 1885, the Advocate disclosed that another new house was in the course of construction for Greenwood, under the supervision of D. Campbell. These two buildings formed a sort of double hotel until 1892, when one of the houses was moved to the other end of the lot, facing the Arcata and Mad River Railroad track. In March, 1894 J. L. Noe bought the house on Greenwood Avenue, and the Greenwoods moved to the house west of the present Civic Center. On May 1, 1920 Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Holcomb of Oakland purchased the home on the railroad.

In February, 1915, J. L. Noe bought the 62 acre ranch of Mrs. Margaret Green near Janes Creek and Mr. C. Golter of Lincoln, Nebraska purchased the former Greenwood property on Greenwood Avenue. The Clyde Nielson family now live in this dwelling, having purchased it from the Golter estate in 1942. The original well was still under the pantry floor, a relic from the days of the hand pump in the house. Mrs. Nielson said the children were fascinated with the large sliding doors which connected the living room with two other rooms, but because they proved too drafty they were replaced with modern doors. Sliding doors are now coming back into fashion, but no doubt with improvements.

The sixty-year old fireplace had begun to sink from the weight of years and had to be torn down. This proved to be a fortunate move, for the timbers facing it were scorched where the fire had reached between the cracks. And so the old Greenwood Hotel belies its age, with each successive dweller making improvements on the landmark and keeping it in good repair.

The picture of Pioneer Fickle with his daughter and granddaughter was taken by my brother, the late Walter Baker, when he was fifteen years of age. My mother carefully recorded the date in connection with the print. "Taken February 28, 1915 at 1 p. m." Mr. Fickle was ninety years old in the November following the day he was photographed.

The illustration of the Marsh House was taken from Elliott's History of Humbold County, printed in 1882. About 1886, Henry Scott sold his hotel at Orleans Bar and purchased this large house, in which he carried on the hotel business until his death. It now belongs to the Larry Logans, who live in the location with their daughter and son-in-law, the George Adams. (The southeast corner of Sixth and I Streets.)

Elliott's Hist. Humboldt Co. 1882

The mill of Mr. Fickle was south of the Marsh House, on the left hand side of the track, which carries the horse drawn vehicle. The home may be the building in front of the longer structure in the rear, which is no doubt the mill itself. To the east of the mill and not showing in the picture was the blacksmith shop of Dock Gilbreath. He was a native of Tennessee and forty-eight years old in 1872, according to the Great Register of that year. It seems he was a former slave, who took the name of his master, who was a Dr. Gilbreath. I have heard that Mr. Fickle brought the blacksmith to Arcata just after the War Between the States, when the Southern Sympathizers resented the presence of freed slaves and they called him "Negro lover," with a less polite term denoting the race of his protege. On June 12, 1875 W. Y. Fickle sold to Dock Gilbreath land at the southeast corner of block 88 for $200.

Elias Sharp owned the land across from the mill and his house may be the structure on the right hand side of the track. He was the engineer of the Arcata Transportation Company Railroad for some years, a tall man who is easily recognized in any picture in which he appears as he looms a foot above all the others present. Later he moved to Boynton Prairie from Arcata. In September, 1892 he traded his ranch on the Prairie to D. D. Philips for the latter's house on Chartin Road, across from the White House. This part of Blue Lake was made immortal by Joseph Frost, who recounted events in the neighborhood of his home in the White House with the gusto of Voltaire himself.

Joseph achieved his realistic effect by giving every day occurrences, although I must confess his daily life seemed to be more eventful than usual. I shall follow his example in closing, by quoting from the busy day of Mrs. Greenwood, about October, 1913:

"Mrs. Greenwood gave a party Saturday for several of her pupils. The afternoon was spent in playing games and during the afternoon a nice lunch was served. Each pupil was presented with a piece of sheet music from their teacher. Those present were Henrietta Lane, Carol Pentin, Muriel Stocks, Ivy Stover, Frances Douarin, Helen Bjorenson, Percy and Christena Jackson."

(Note. Mr. Marshall gave the information requested by Mr. Blake in his recent article on the railroad accident. He says that William Wilson was on the train and is still living at Hoopa.)

July 21. Traveled nineteen miles. Roads good, mostly level with some rock. Reached the Platte River. A natural stone fence adorns one side of the river from ten to fifty feet high, for several miles. Rested Sunday.

July 23. Rested and washed on Platte River waiting for the river to fall.

July 26. Traveled fifteen miles over hilly roads, through Bridger's Pass. Camped on Muddy Creek. Passed a grave of a man drowned in this stream, the name of Leowley.

July 28. Camped by a spring of mineral water, called the Bitter Spring. Passed a rock in the shape of hay stack. No grass.

August 4. Came ten miles. Crossed Green River on a flat boat, price two dollars per person. Camped opposite the Red Buttes. Saw a man that had been in the mountains since he was twenty years old. Could speak five languages, but could not read or write. Name -- John Meanard. The river is not as wide as the Platte, but deeper and cleaner. Have nice fresh water and good grass.

August 6. Camped on the north bank of the Green River. Plenty of grass and water. The ferryman has joined our company together with his mountaineer.

August 12. Camped in a quaking aspen grove. Passed four graves today.

August 16. Saw some of the nicest springs I ever saw coming out of the mountains. Some of the water tasted like slate, some of sulphur and one of salt.

September 2. Stayed all day. Captain's lady gave birth to a son.

September 3. Started in the afternoon. Traveled all night. Came twenty miles. Good roads. Good water and grass. Some wood.

September 26. Drove sixteen miles. Terrible roads. Camped in Carson Valley. The valley is large and level here. Carson Lake is a large sheet of water and looks beautiful.

October 3. This morning the mountains are covered with snow and present a beautiful scene. The mountains here are covered with pine. The leaves are as green as in summer.

October 17. Drove twelve miles. Good roads, no grass, good water. Passed the Mother of the Forest. It is 327 feet high, circumference 78 feet.

October 30. Arrived in Mokelumne City.

(Additional note from writer, Susie Baker Fountain, "Here is a conflict with the opening account of Fickle's life, which states he spent the winter in Salt Lake City. It is true that the penciled writing in the journal was faded and indistinct and some words were impossible to read....
Another interesting note it mentioned: A lot of Shoshone Indians were around the camp today trading us for bread and powder and lead -----.)"

Extract from Story of Blue Lake - Susie Baker Fountain - Vol. 3.

Great Granddaughter's note: Mokelumne City flooded in 1862 and was moved and renamed New Hope. It was later moved and called Thornton and is located in north San Joaquin County, California.
California Historical Landmark No. 162: Site of Mokelumne City Established in 1850, its prospects were bright. The second largest town in the county, it had deep water communication with San Francisco all year around, an advantage not possessed by any other town in the county except Stockton. The floods of 1862 destroyed the town. 0.3 mi E of Benson's Ferry (San Joaquin) also in the immediate family was wife, Sarah Ann Fulkerson Fickle, son Wm Irving Morse Fickle b. 1856, daughter, Evelyn A, b. 1858 and Fickle's brother-in-law John T. Fulkerson.

Great Granddaughter, Helen Mae NARVER SMITH

THE WAY TO GO

Travelers and migrants heading anywhere are forced to use the types transportation available to them. Sometimes the mode of travel is dictate money, or the lack of it. The traveler with little or no funds often went foot in early days, carrying his belongings on his back. Those a bit m fortunate used a packhorse.

For even more affluent travelers, or those who had a family and a lot o belongings, a wagon or cart pulled by oxen or horses would be the choice early days, if such could be had.

Some travelers went by water using steamboats, sailboats, barges or canoe for river transportation--if such streams carried them in the right direction. Often the weary or discouraged migrants gave up their journey and settled dow in some likely spot, frequently to remain permanently. In other instances, they moved on again after months or even years.

Once railroads came into use, many travelers went by train, especially in the latter 19th century. Like travelers by water, train passengers had to go along pre-established routes. This limited their movement somewhat. Again, like travelers by other modes of transportation, train passengers might break their journey or even cut it short by settling along the way.

Reading histories of various types of transportation will help you plot likely routes of travel by your own ancestors. Maps of waterways, canals, railroads and trails across America are well documented by individual histories. Look for such books in your library.

Local and state histories, too, will add to your knowledge of the different transportation methods and routes in specific areas.

To give you some idea of specific migration methods and routes, look up the histories of the following, as appropriate:

A. Trails and Roads

1. Indian trail (in general and in specific states). Used from the 17th through the 19th centuries.
2. The National or Cumberland Road (through Maryland, Ohio, Indiana and into Illinois in the 19th century).
3. Braddock's Road (Maryland and Pennsylvania in the 18th century).
4. Forbes' Road (Pennsylvania in the 18th century).
5. The Federal Road (Georgia to Alabama in the 19th century).
6. The Oregon Trail (or Emigrant Road, in the 19th century).
7. The Santa Fe Trail (to Texas and New Mexico in the 19th century).
8. The California Trail (from the Oregon Trail in Idaho to California, in the 19th century).

17,

   9. The Wilderness Road (laid out by Daniel Boone into Kentucky and used from the 18th into the 19th century).
   10. The Mormon Trail (to Utah in the 19th century).
   11. The Natchez Trace (from Kentucky to Louisiana, in the 19th century).
   12. The Chicago Pike (from Buffalo, New York, to Chicago, in the 19th century).

B. Waterways

   1. The Ohio River route (18th into the 20th century).
   2. The Mississippi River-Missouri River route (from the 18th to the 20th century).
   3. The Erie Canal (across New York state in the 19th century).
   4. The Ohio Canal system (from north to south across the state in the 19th century).
   5. The Indiana Canal system (across the state in the 19th century).
   6. The Pennsylvania Canal system (across the state from east to west, in the 19th century).

C. Railroads

   1. The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad (from the 19th century to the 20th century).
   2. The Pennsylvania Railroad (19th to 20th century).
   3. The New York Central Railroad (19th to 20th century).
   4. The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad (19th to 20th century).
   5. The Northern Pacific Railroad (19th to 20th century).
   6. The Central Pacific Railroad (19th to 20th century).
   7. The Southern Pacific Railroad (19th to 20th century).

The above were the MAIN routes of travel across America during the times noted and later. In general, probably most migrating people within the United States used these routes, as well as others. Remember, your ancestors could have used other routes. In any case, check areas along these routes mentioned for any mention of your ancestors' names, if you don't know exactly where they lived, or how they moved.

Discovering local history

Our good friend, Dorothy Jackson of Blue Lake, one-time Humboldt Times correspondent, enjoys getting involved in local history and writing about it.

She says, "Of course, some of the stories I write come from the wealth of history left for us by the late Susie Baker Fountain..." I understand the collection has been partially catalogued and a lot of work remains.

When David and Georgene Barlogio came from Paso Robles to Blue Lake to find the history of Dr. William Fickle, great-grandfather of Mrs. Bargolio, Humboldt State University library was closed, being Saturday.

Dorothy spent a few hours on the project to help the Barlogios.

"I found a considerable amount of history about Dr. Fickle and the Greenwoods, all relatives and important in both Blue Lake's and Arcata's past.

"James Greenwood," she writes, "came west in 1848 with his father and brothers. They resided first in Lake County at Mendocino and the town of Greenwood bears their name. The town was located just south of Albion and was a lumber town. Greenwood is mentioned in 'Ships of the Redwood Coast.' Greenwood Avenue in Blue Lake is named for James Greenwood who died in 1908.

"James' father was Caleb Greenwood, Colonial English, and was believed to have been born in Virginia. He was a mountain man and a trapper. He married a Crow woman by whom he had several children. In 1844 he was over 80 when he guided the Stevens - Townsend - Murphy party to California — the first party over Greenwood's "cut-off," later called Sublette's Cutoff.

"Caleb's children were Joseph (who stayed in Montana), John Britt, Bailey, William, James Case, Angeline, Sarah, Biggs, Davy Crockett and Sam. One of the best accounts of Caleb is to be found in 'Gold Rush,' by J. Goldsborough Bruff. It is believed Caleb knew Davy Crockett personally and probably the reason he named his son for him, Crocket was born in 1786 in Tnnessee and was already a popular hero by the time Greenwood married in 1810.

"After the Greenwoods left Mendocino they came to Arcata and Blue Lake. James married Eva A. Fickle in Arcata Sept. 13, 1874. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. James Todd. She was the daughter of William and Sarah Ann Fickle, natives of Ohio. In 1860, the Fickles started for California and the first winter they got as far as Salt Lake City, where they spent the winter. In the spring of 1861 they arrived in Sacramento where Fickle served as doctor for five years. He had studied medicine under local physicians in Ohio.

"In 1867 this item appeared in The Humboldt Times, Sept. 7, 1867;

"Dr. William T. Fickle — Botanic Family Physician. Mrs. Fickle will attend in all cases of obstretrics. Ref. Professor W. H. Cook, Cincinnati, Ohio."

"The Fickles' eldest son, aged 12, died Nov. 29, 1868 of scarlet fever. In 1873 Dr. Ficle purchased 20 acres of Elias Sharp and built a shingle-mill. The Times said it was near the railroad below town and capable of turning out 40,000 shingles per day. The mill was run by steam and a 24-horse-power engine. Ten men were employed. He later operated a mill on property named for him — Fickle Hill.

"Nov. 1881, Alexander Preston purchased all of Fickle's holdings, and the Fickle family moved to San Luis Obispo where they dairied on a homestead until 1907, when they moved to Blue Lake to be with their daughter, Mrs. James Greenwood.

"Britt Greenwood was said to have led rescurers to locate survivors of the Donner Party. 'The Way West' by A. B. Guthrie tells of Caled Greenwood being sent to Fort Hall by Sutter to divert the Oregon emigration of 1846, to California.

"James Geenwood sold his interest in the Blue Lake Livery Stable on June 12, 1888. And item in The blue Lake Advocate, Sept. 19, 1891, reports: "It was amusing to see James Greenwood get on his overcoat the other morning to try to protect the town of Blue Lake from Texas desperadoes who were reported on the outskirts of town. It was a light mistake and it proved to be Kelly and Mahan mounted on their horses, driving a band of cattle to North Fork.' At the time Greenwood was deputy marshal.

"At one time Greenwood owned all the property along Greenwood Avenue, and gradually sold to others for their home sites. His wife gave music lessons to most of those living in Blue Lake who are today in the 65-70 age group. The entire family was musical and played for dances for many years. Others in the band in 1895 were Ananias Merryman, H. B. Merryman and Temple Greenwood."

Dorothy says in this Bicentennial year, "As you drive into Blue Lake down Greenwood Avenue, pause to remember the pioneer citizens and builders of our city."

To Dorothy Jackson, a special thank you for this chapter of history.

SIGNIFICANCE

19. Briefly state historical and/or architectural importance (include dates, events, and persons associated with the site.)

Built in February of 1885 by D. J. Campbell, and built onto James Greenwood's original home, the two buildings formed a sort of double house. In 1888 an addition was added to this house and it became the Greenwood Hotel. In 1892 the house was split and one of the houses was moved to the other end of the lot, facing the railroad tracks. James Caleb Greenwood was a California pioneer, coming to California from Missouri in 1848. His father was a mountain man and his mother a Crow Indian. One brother was said to have led rescuers to the survivors of the Donner Party. In 1874 James Greenwood married Eva Fickle (daughter of William and Sarah Fickle of Fickle Hill in Arcata) and the year this house was built he left his job as proprieter of the Scottsville Hotel and began a stage business between Blue Lake and Berry's Place on Redwood Creek. Both Eva and James were musicians. James played first violin in the Greenwood Orchestra in Blue Lake. Officially Greewood "enjoyed the reputation of being the best constable in the county."

Dear Helen::

I want to answer some of your questions in your last letter. The picture of John Young's headstone was taken in my back yard. It is now in my garage. It was leaning against a tree near were the cemetery was on the Smith property. Therefore, I'm sure both John and his father were buried in the same cemetery.

I was talking to a man who lives in the area and had owned some of the Young property and he remembered seeing the headstone and brought it in to me.

The headstone for Wm Young was taken to Mansfield by C. Eugene Probst and he died soon after. I had my brother try to locate the headstone but Eugene's wife didn't know anything about it. Eugene is related but I don't know where he fits in. I had only met him once or twice.

September is going to be a busy month for me. My granddaughter is getting married Sept. 5 and the last of September (24-27) I plan to be out of state. Then another Friday and Saturady I will be out of state, but I do not know which one. I still expect to be able to attend the September 17 meeting here in Bucyrus.

I hope that you and Roena can get to Bucyrus when you are in Ohio. I would like to meet both of you.

Sincerely,

Rachel

Dear Roena

1852 DEED I.H. & NANCY FICKLE TO W.Y. FICKLE.

NORTH EAST ORNER OF SOUTH WEST QUARTER OF SECT 25 OF TOWNSHIP 7 NORTH OFRANGE 3 EAST. THENCE WEST 40 RODS THENCE SOUTH 160 RODS THENCE EAST 40 RODS THENCE NORTH 160 RODS TO THE PLACE OF BEGINNING CONTAINING 40 ACRES OF LAND.

WILLIAMS COUNTY, OHIO

WE, BEING HELEN AND DAVE AND I ARE WONDERING IF WE HAVE THIS PIECE OF PROPERTY LOCATED RIGHT. IS IT BY THE RIVER YOU MENTIONED THAT BENJI. FICKLE WAS BURIED AT THE FIRST TIME? WE NOTICED ON THE ENCLOSED PLATT MAP THAT THERE ARE TWO PIECES OF FICKLE PROPERTY, ONE UNDER I.H. FICKLE AND THE OTHER LOOKS LIKE G.S. FICKLE. RIGHT NEXT TO THE ABOVE PIECE THAT I.H. WAS DEEDING THE W.Y. FICKLE.

I HAVE ALL OF MY ENVELOPES FROM YOU, HELEN, AND CAROLINE ON MY SPARE BED. MOST ARE NUMBERED NOW FOR MY SOURCE FILE. THEN I CAN START TO GOTHOUGH AND ANSWER QUESTIONS AND SEND THE THINGS I HAVE SAID I WOULD SEND SO MANY TIMES. I HAVE PUT GENE. HIGHER ON MY PRIORITY LIST SO I CAN BE READY FOR SALT LAKE CITY THIS NEXT DECEMBER.

MY FRIEND PUT IN THE UPDATES ON MY PAF PROGRAM. SO NOW I WILL START USING IT IN ALL EARNEST. I KNOW NOT MUCH YET ABOUT IT. AND AM IN PROCESS OF LEARNING THE COMPUTER AT WORK. BUT, IT IS WORD PERFECT. MINE AT HOME IS WINDOWS. SO TWO PROGRAMS TO LEARN. OH WELL WILL SURE KEEP MY OUT OF MISCHIEF. I JUST REREAD YOUR LAST LETTER. OH IT MAKES ME FEEL SO GOOD TO KNOW I AM NOT THE ONLY ONE WHO GETS LOST IN THIS COMPUTER WORLD.

YES, WE DO TAKE HERITAGE QUEST. BUT GUESS I OVERLOOKED THAT ARTICLE SURE GLAD YOU SENT IT. THE FUNNY PART IS--ONE YEAR WHEN WE WERE IN SALT LAKE CITY I COPIED A WHOLE BUNCH OF STUFF I FOUND ON SCHLEIRMACHERS. BUT OF COURSE IT IS ALL IN GERMAN. I THOUGHT AT THE TIME IT WAS SUCH AN UNUSUAL NAME THAT IT HAD TO BE OURS., STILL THINK SOME OF THEM MUST BE. PART OF WHAT I COPIED, I BELIEVE, IS A GENEOLOGY ON THEM. BUT I CAN'T TELL. I DO HAVE ONE BOOK I COPIED PARTS OF ENTITTLED VOL 96-DEUTSCHES GESCHLECHTERBUCH (GERMAN LINEAGE BOOK) THE MAN ANSWERING THE (in Heritage Quest) MYSTERY PERSON WHO ASK THE QUESTION , SAID HE FOUND A PRINTED GENEO. ON THE SCHLEIERMACHERS FROM WILDUGEN IN WALDECK IN THE ABOVE BOOK. I ONLY COPIED PAGES THAT HAD SHCLEIRMACHERS ON IT.WHICH ENDS UP BEING ABOUT 32 PAGES. PLUS AT LEAST THAT MANY MORE PAGES , PROBABLY MORE → of the second book BUT NEGLECTED TO GET THE COVER SHEET AND DO NOT KNOW THE VOLUME NUMBER. ANY WAY, IF YOU ARE INTERESTED I CAN COPY THEM FOR YOU. I ALSO HAD COPIED INFORMATION ON HOW TO READ THE GERMAN ALPHABET, MAPS , CITIES AND STATES, ETC. I WILL BE GLAD TO SEND IT IF YOU ARE INTERESTED. I AM NOT WORKING ON IT AS YET BECAUSE I HAVE TO GET FROM "CAROLINES UNORGANIZED STATE" TO NONAS ORGANIZED STATE. HA!! WE REALLY LIKE THE HERITAGE QUEST MAGAZINE . IT A GOOD REFERANCE MAGAZINE.

HOPE YOUR TOOTH IS OK NOW. THAT YOUR WEATHER IS IMPROVING. I HAVE TO SAY WE ARE HAVING WONDERFUL WEATHER. WE HAVE APRICOTS AS BIG AS THE END OF DAVES THUMB. HOPING WE DON'T HAVE A FROST. DAVE PLANTED SUNFLOWERS, AND STRINGBEANS. I PLANTED TOMATO, AND PEPPER SEEDS IN THE HOUSE. MY BELLE OF PORTUGUL ROSE IS JUST STARTIN TO BLOOM. CAROLINE GAVE IT TO ME, WHEN SHE FOUND I WAS HAVING TROUBLE FINDING ONE TO REPLACE THE ONE THAT DIED THAT DAVES MOM LIKED SO WELL.

WE GOT SOME LAUGHS OVER YOUR LETTER AND THE COMPUTER. SURE HOPE YOU GET TO GO ON YOUR ELDERHOSTAL TRIP. JUST THINK IF YOU CAME TO SALT LAKE CITY IN DEC YOU WOULD HAVE THOSE COMPUTERS DOWN PAT. WELL TIME FOR ME TO FIX DINNER. PLEASE EXCUSE SPELLING I HAVN'T LEARNED HOW TO USE SPELL CHECK YET AND AM TO LAZY TO GO BACK A ND CORRECT THEM RIGHT NOW. HAPPY SPRING

LOVE, NONA AND DAVE.

Dear Caroline;

Thank you for your letter of 25 Jan and for sending the enclosure written by Cora Eveline McCULLOCH Belanger Johnson.

Although you may not have seen this in the newsletter, it is mostly taken from the "MARTIN GENEALOGY", an undocumented several page compilation of people who are part of what is known as the "Short Creek McCULLOCHs" or the lineage of "Zane/McCULLOCH". It is also, in part, the line my cousin and I descend from. Cora McCULLOCH Johnson was a distant cousin of Pat Morgan.

Unfortunately, this Martin Genealogy is seriously flawed in a couple of places and should NOT be published! If there had been any documentation at all, We could have proved it or disproved it, as the case may be. But, for instance, the common ancestor of both Pat and I, Samuel McCULLOCH is listed in the genealogy with his son John Leonard, and is said to have died in 1814. As a matter of fact, Samuel lived until 1849 and had four more sons and two daughters. We have proven this line --- back to 1803 in Ohio when Samuel McCULLOCH married Mary LEONARD. We even know who the parents and siblings of Mary Leonard were! (On the other hand, the records of Abraham McCULLOCH of Short Creek is well substantiated by Bible records, etc.)

As to the "HORN" papers, they are also controversial. One wishes he had stated WHERE he got HIS information! Some believe the genealogies are OK --- just the history is flawed. I can get you a copy, if you wish, so that you can read them for yourself. But those papers cause more questions for me than they solve, unfortunately. Pat Morgan tried to prove "A" McCULLOCH line and she believes that some of it is true. But we both have a problem in finding enough data to determine exactly which family it refers to. Hazel Lowery and I concur that there are some families not accounted for in that early time period in PA and WVA (at the time still VA proper). We think early researchers mixed up several families and made them into only one or two. I have a line in "Harper's Ferry" VA which so far, is only two daughters married to MORGAN men. WHO are their parents? How do we find the records? One day, perhaps, there will be answers to some of these questions. I hope.

The two George men theory came from writings by a man who had studied Van Meters. Again, it is a question of "how do you prove it?" I haven't done much with it as yet, because too much else has been going on in my life. But if enough of us keep looking for clues, perhaps we will come up with a workable theory. I SUSPECT that the "four McCULLOCHS of the McCULLOCH TRADER's TRAIL" are involved in this puzzle somewhere. Again, these are very early happenings and due to the Indian Wars in VA in the mid 1750's, lots of records just no longer exist, or are "lost".

Eventually (soon, perhaps), I am going to dig again into Wash Co PA material and also Greene Co PA and Fayette Co PA, to see what I can find. Those are areas where VA people settled when it was all Augusta Co VA. There were a lot of McCULLOCHs in those areas, most of whom who later went to Ohio or KY or both.

I do appreciate your interest in all this and hope you will continue to dig into your own lines. I am sure it is going to be helpful to everyone. If you DO find cemetery records, let me know!

Sincerely,

Betty

Dear Cousin Helen,

Well, here I sit, the lady I ride with to go to the Ref. Senr. meeting is on the Board ~~of the~~ so I brought along my writing equip.

This Sat. about 3:00 I got a call ~~from~~ that Audrey (Kimmel) W— & her husband & ——— ———

— & her husband were in Farmer Cty & wondered if they could drop in. I was so excited because I knew I had so much to share with them. They had no pictures, as Victor, ~~got all of Minnies (Minerva) Kimmel, Kimmels son~~ Minnies son got them & they had a fire & all the pictures ~~& albums family records~~ were destroyed. They were so excited & Audrey copied & copied but, of course ~~they didn't have time to get everything they~~ she got very little of what was in the book—so both declared they would be back soon. I told them not to put it off too long. They said they were definitely going to make it soon.

Funeral Services For Alvey Fickle Will Be Tomorrow

Funeral services for Alvey Fickle will be held tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. t White's chapel, with Dr. Heber St. Clair Mahood officiating. Burial will take place at the IOOF cemetery.

Fickle, 93, who died yesterday at a local hospital, was born in Utah in a covered wagon while his family was crossing the plains to California.

The family settled first in Eureka where he was reared. Fickle and his father operated the first shingle mill in the area, located on what still is known as Fickle hill.

Fickle came to Santa Cruz about 1885 and married Annie M. Fickle, now deceased. They moved to San Luis Obispo where he and his father took up government land, and returned often to Santa Cruz. He returned for the last time about a year ago to make his home with his daughter.

His survivors include four sons, William Fickle of Santa Maria, Clarence Fickle of Atascadero, Leslie W. Fickle of Los Angeles and Alva Fickle of Washington; seven daughters, Frances Trippe and Edna Nelson of Sacramento, Irma Drum of Long Beach, Grace Whitner of Ba- ld, Nina Reed of San Luis o, Minnie E. Leeds of Santa Cruz, Florence Boren of Napa; also grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

DEATH OF PIONEER W. Y. FICKLE

Passes Away at the Home of His Daughter in Blue Lake

WAS IN HIS NINETY-SECOND YEAR

Short History of His Early Pioneer Days--Came to California in 1861

Early Saturday morning, William Young Fickle, an early day pioneer well known in Arcata as well as here, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Greenwood in Blue Lake after a brief illness due to old age. He was buried Sunday afternoon, January 14, under the auspices of the Blue Lake lodge of Odd Fellows, Rev. C. J. Irwin officiating. The pall-bearers were Daniel Baldwin, Louis Schmidt, M. T. Hill, J. Parton, R. A. Redmond and H. D. Cousins.

William Young Fickle was born in 1825. His early life was spent on the home farm, but not caring for farm life he chose the profession of physician and studied under Dr. Curtis and Dr. Cook and other eminent physicians of that day. He was married to Sarah Ann Fulkerson on June 2, 1855. In 1860, Dr. Fickle, his wife and brother-in-law started across the plains, other families joining, making about a hundred families altogether. They traveled as far as Salt Lake city, where they spent the winter. In the spring of 1861 he came to Sacramento, where he practiced as a physician for five years. In 1866 he moved to Seattle, Wash. His health not being good at that place he came to Arcata in 1869, where he followed his profession for a number of years. He then went into the shingle business for a number of years. Not caring for that line of business he went to San Luis Obispo county, homesteaded a farm and engaged in dairying until 1907, when he and his wife came to Blue Lake to reside with his daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Greenwood. His wife died February 12, 1909. He continued to reside with his daughter here until the time of his death.

He leaves a son, Alva Fickle, of southern California, a daughter, Mrs. E. Greenwood of Blue Lake, and one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Towers of Ohio.

MEETS BROTHER AFTER THIRTY YEARS

PORTLAND, Ore.—(U.P.)—When, as a lad of 18, William Fickle left home in Santa Barbara county, Calif., 30 years ago, he didn't like the name of Fickle, so he called himself William Knight.

He had almost forgotten the name of Fickle until he read in a Portland paper that a Leslie Fickle, 38, was in jail on a charge of selling liquor to an Indian. Visiting jail, Knight found that the prisoner was a brother he had not seen for 30 years. He posted $500 bail and learned from his brother the whereabouts of 11 brothers and sisters, most of whom live in California.

The name is also sp

BENJAMIN FICKLE was a Marylander. His home was in Frederick county, the home also of Barbara Frietchie and Chief Justice Roger Brooke Taney. He enlisted April 6, 1778 for the duration of the war, in the company of Capt. Jonathan Morris. On May 10, 1778, Sgt.Benjamin Fickle took up Thomas Bowl as a vagrant and delivered him to Capt. Morris. On Feb. 19, 1780, he was in the Fifth Regiment Continental Line, and was commissioned Captain on Feb. 19, 1781. As Lieutenant he was in service on Dec. 15, 1783. For his service he received a Federal Bounty Warrant for 200 acres of land, and the state of Maryland gave him a pension of half pay of a Lieutenant for life. At this time, he was a resident of Muskingum county, Ohio. On Dec. 27, 1833, he asked for an increase of pension, certifying his service in Coshocton co., Pike township. This led to a surmise that he had been buried in Coshocton. But this error is corrected by Charles A. Bowersox on page 342 in his History of Williams County. He says: "An old account says Benjamin Fickle died in October, 1839, in Jefferson township and that he was buried on the Isaac Fickle farm, and that in 1888, the body was exhumed and re-interred in April, in Fountain Grove cemetery. But the metal marker at his grave has the name D. Fickle on it with seven stars, indicating the Revolutionary war of 1776." This error should be rectified. Another source gives May 20, 1839 as the date of death. His pension was last paid to Sept. 4, 1838. His wife's name was Phebe. They had eight children.

Roses are a passion for Florence couple

Caroline and Michael Hall in their Woahink Lake rose garden.

Caroline and Michael Hall collect heirloom roses.

Siuslaw News

A week ago the last of the rhododendrons were blooming along the edges of Caroline and Michael Hall's gently sloping property on Woahink Lake south of Florence.

Letting go of springtime can be difficult. For the Halls, however, the real season is just beginning.

As the rhodies dwindle, the roses approach their summer glory. Against a board fence, Veilchenblau, a nine-foot European climber, drapes hundreds of tight purple buds, getting ready to impersonate a glistening chandelier.

Along the driveway, a hedge of pink Bonica is slowly opening up into a wall of color. At the trellised entrance to the formal English rose garden, several big yellow blooms of Galway Bay snake upward between 4x4 supports.

The Halls collect roses the way others collect glass bottles or spoons. After a dozen years working their lakeside garden, they've built a living museum of approximately 800 bushes, mostly the heirloom types known as "old garden roses."

The entrance hedge of Bonica roses all by itself represents about 90 individual plants. Elsewhere the paths lead past one type after another, organized by category. Moss roses with thorny stems here, aromatic David Austins there, the puffball noisettes over there. Individual bushes are identified by ground-level nameplates. Rosa mundi, reads one, "rose of the world."

Caroline takes a pragmatic approach to growing roses. Figuring out which varieties are best for the climate—cool and sometimes quite windy—requires experimentation. You have to accept some losses in the process, she says.

"The ones that aren't perfect for the Coast sort of die—and you replace them."

Michael points out that the Bonica roses merging into a hedge along the driveway are of different sizes because he planted them in stages, in order to make sure that the conditions here would support the type.

Advice and encouragement from other rose gardeners takes some of the guesswork out of it. The Halls are affiliated with rose groups in Coos Bay and Eugene. They also belong to an organization with a no-nonsense name, the Oregon Hardy Plant Society.

The Halls' success with roses isn't all luck and good advice. When they came looking for a retirement spot in the Florence area in the late '80s, Caroline says, they told their Realtor they would only consider properties with good soil. What they found is a band of loam—"no sand and no clay," she says—at the southern end of Woahink. Once forest, the cleared land was grazed by cattle before it was subdivided.

During a tour of the garden, Michael carries a squirt bottle containing a solution of 1 tablespoon baking soda to a quart of water. He applies it to the leaves of plants showing "black spot," a fungus common to roses.

The Halls use no pesticides. They prefer to experiment with disease-resistant varieties.

"We're purely organic," Caroline says. "So you see bugs and black spot.

"There's a nice bird," she says as a robin hops away. "That's why we don't spray."

Michael endorses the approach.

"Caroline says she's learned over the years to grow the things that will grow for her, with the care she's willing to give it," he says.

In some of the paths, spindly little rose plants have sprung up where the wind or birds deposited seeds.

"We leave them," Michael says, "until we see if we like the looks of them."

Nearby is a bush he transplanted as a seedling. Now chest high, it's beginning to sport pink-and-white blossoms. Pollen bees tumble in the yellow centers and a lady bug has set up shop on a leaf.

Caroline says she's named this one "Florentine Lace."

"Yeah, I made up the name," she says. "It's my rose."

Caroline looks around the sunny morning garden. The wind mixes the scent of a hundred roses together. You could say it doesn't get any better, but Caroline knows better than that. She hands her visitors a little rose-bordered calling card.

"You're going to have to come back in a week," she says.

Going home...

God saw you getting tired when a cure was not to be. So he put his arms around you and whispered, come home to me.

You didn't deserve what you went through, so God gave you rest. God's garden must be beautiful, He only takes the best.

And when He saw you sleeping, so peaceful, free from pain, we couldn't wish you back to suffer that again.

It broke our hearts to lose you, but you didn't go in vain. We have memories of your joyful times to keep us free from pain.

Dear Roena,

We made it through the heat wave. Hope that is the end of it for this year.... How are you doing, according to our weather map looks like you are having, or have been having, constant thunder storms.

I've been up to a little mischief lately and what I think I want to do is all a jumble in my head. Going through some of my mother's papers I found some poems that my Aunt Mary, Caroline's Mother, had sent her. They were just so good I could not throw then away. Called Nona and asked if she or her mother had received any from Aunt Mary. No, but she thought Pennie had received some. (Nona's daughter) I have decided to gather as many as I can locate and put them together in a booklet and pass them on to the cousins. Wrote to cousin Steve and Amanda Leeds and asked if they had any that Mary may have written to his grand mother, my Aunt Minnie. (Margaret Elizabeth (Fickle) Leeds, was the person that wrote to your Aunt Minnie) Wish me luck, I'll probably need it.....
(Pennie is spending three weeks with Nona, she arrives today from Truckee.)

In the meantime, I have been toying with the idea of writing up something on the Fickles. I can't recall seeing any other Fickle histories. Am I right or wrong?

Mainly it would be to try to connect the people on the family tree, sort of who they were, what they did, and where they went. In just looking at a few of the Fickles, I can see it will be a job as I find that I had not kept up their Family Sheet as I should have. And I am also asking you if I can freely use information that is yours. You have written some great pieces on Benjamin and Michael, etc.

Don't know if I told you about my years searching for the photograph of the soldier sitting with his rifle laying across his lap. His name being John Trucks Fulkerson, son of J. Jason & Clarissa (Trucks) Fulkerson. He fought in the war against the Modoc Indians in Southern Oregon, 1872-3. When searching for the picture, I looked for Trucks instead of Fulkerson. I have always confused those two families. In looking for a picture of Aunt Mary, to use in the poem booklet, I found in a packet from Nona the picture of John. I couldn't believe my eyes, then I realized my mistake.

Cousin Steve, before mentioned, had sent the pictures to Nona and she to me. I know John T. is not directly related to you but am enclosing a copy of the picture. Oh, and just yesterday I learned that author Bancroft published two pages –"Dictation from John T. Fulkerson: Langel Valley, Klamath County, Oregon: ms., 1888". It is in the library at U.C. Berkeley. Love to get my hands on that. I'll call here at State Univ. and see how I might see it.

It's that sort of thing that is starting to bug me into doing the Fickle family. All this history of individuals will be lost if it isn't put down somewhere. So, if I get into this the way I would like I probably will be asking you for information on siblings on the lateral tree.

I went back and looked at the registered birth and deaths on the page from Sarah Ann (Trucks) Fickle's Bible and sure enough as I read it my grandfather's name is Alva Wooster, not Alvey Wooster. I am changing everything I have to Alva.

I hope I have made some sense here. Seems the people involved sort of crisscross in each others lives and it is difficult to be sure one has the right persons.

I miss you, wish we were closer. Take care.

Love, Cousin Helen

Encl.

P.S. I opened the envelope to make a couple changes.

Dear Roena,

Thank you for the pictures, here are the ones I took. That film went all the way to Mexico and back before I got the roll used up. The trip to Arizona and Mexico was very nice, but darn near froze. It snowed on us in Phoenix, and wasn't must warmer in Kino Bay, Mex.

Just came in from an hours work in the garden, trying to catch up with all the nice new little weeds. They kept promising rain but it hasn't come yet. At least I got the front all fertilized and am ready for it. Will fertilize the back this afternoon. Still a few oranges on the tree way up there where I can't reach them.

Just between you and me and the gate post, I don't think they have very good zerox machines in Santa Maria......I hope that Dave's photos of the albumn come out better. I will be going down there April 17th, Nona has signed me up to go with their club to the L.A. Library, really looking forward to it. I haven't touched genealogy since before my trip, and still haven't sorted out the stuff I got at Sutro/Lib. in January and am scheduled to go again Mar. 18th, providing the Greyhound strike is over......

No, I haven't had anymore from Lawrence. I owe him a letter from the stuff that we read here. One of these days.....

When I saw your copy of our family picture, I remembered that some where I have a negative of that picture. Just in case you want the names, from left to right: Craig Rupert Smith, Wayne's ex-wife Susan Patterson, me with the cat, Wayne Baird Smith, and Rupert Baird Smith, taken at Rupe's birthday dinner at Wayne's house, November 1982.

I haven't written to Gerald Fickel to ask about the Ad Fickel who married Martha Jane Dennis. Will put a note in his Easter Card.

I still hope to be able to drive back to the midwest this fall. If I do will leave Omaha after convention Aug. 11th for time in Iowa then work my way east. Will keep you posted.

Well, best go eat some lunch and get this in the mail.

Take care,

Love, Helen

Dear Roena,

Hope you are well. Even with my great trip this year I hope for all that next year will be better.

Am looking forward to seeing Nona next week. Will take down what you have sent so she can copy. I'm also looking forward to seeing Jane and Ralph Smith, I'll meet them in Tucson for our Elderhostel week.

Do you know of these people? Gerald gave me their names, he says Vanda has a file on Wm. F. Fickle and Ann Thompson.

I have not corresponded with them. Also, he, Gerald, says should we ever get to Germany - the Fickels are mostly settled in Grunstadt, 20 miles west of Mannkeim, west bank of the Rhine River. Wouldn't I just love to go over there and poke around....

Here at last are the Headstone pictures of William Young. Sorry about the reproduction of the pictures, sometimes I think photo copies a just as good.

Take care,

Dear Roena,

It was so nice talking to you the other day. Glad I called.

I made myself a little note while talking to you about my two Union soldiers of the Civil War. Was going to write to my cousin to see if he had more information about them, but I really don't think so as he got it from another person that wrote the Gortner paper. Anyway here it is and if you need more info if I can't get it from David, will sent to the Archives and get their records.

Philip Henry GORTNER, soldier under General McClellan at Cattlet Station, Virginia. Co. F. 106th Reg. Penn. Volunteers. and his brother -

John Elias GORTNER, under General McClellan at Cattlet Station, Virginia. Co. F. 106th Reg. Penn Volunteers.

Both were killed there. Philip born 13 May 1837 died 4 June 1862.
John born 18 Sept. 1843 died 5 June 1862.

I went through the list of photographs in Sarah Narver's (Gortner) album and there are none listed of the two Gortner lads. They would have been her brothers. I am writing a note to someone in Florida that just may have a picture, if she isn't dead by now. Anyway I'll see what I can come up with.

I'm looking forward to Jane and Ralph's visit out here the end of Sept. We're all signed up for an Elderhostel in Utah the week of Oct. 6th. There are five of us and we will drive from here to Utah and back.

Hope Alan is feeling better. You both take care.

Love,

Helen

Happy Holidays

18 December 1990

Dear Roena,

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year!

You must have had a wonderful trip last summer-fall. Wish I could have been gone as long as you. My trip lasted nine weeks and outside of having to sit idle about three or four days to have work done on my car, was busy all the time or on the road.

Had a nice visit with Ina Van Nortwick Hutchison of West Unity, Ohio, she is the great granddaughter of Clarissa Trucks Van Nortwick. After working in Penna. went down to N.C. to visit a couple weeks with my sister-in-law in Asheville. Across to Tenn. I visited with my nephew near Memphis. At that point was heading home with another stop in Des Moines because the first time I came through the State Fair was on and there wasn't a room to be had. All in all my research trip was a success, just wished I could have had even more time at different places. If you ever have reason to work in Michigan the Lansing State Library is fantastic. Still, my favorite ones are the IGS in Des Moines and OGS in Mansfield.

I'm still sorting out my work when I do work. Haven't had time to do much since I got home, but here are a couple things I thought you might be interest in. Gerald Fickel is the great great grandson of Joseph D. and Mary Dusenberry Fickel, Sure is a wonderful person. I was researching my grandfather at Mahaska Co. and the name Dusenberry jumped out of the page. Don't know these people, John R. Dusenberry or Washington Fickle, but thought they must be in your line somewhere. It's a good document as it lists so many people.

Well, don't want this to turn into a book, so will close. How are you doing on your computer? Take care and have a happy, healthful new year.

Love,

Helen

Dear Roena,

Thank you for the packet, again, it was waiting for me when I got home on Sept. 2nd. I particularly found the statement regarding the Fickles being from Holland instead of Germany very interesting. Caroline's father, Uncle Bill, always maintained that they were Dutch, now I think this bio on Benj's nephew, David T., can confirm it.

I'm so far behind in everything it is overwhelming! I managed to spend a couple days at the Ft. Wayne Library this trip but can't say it was of much avail. I think, between the two, I prefer the OGS Library in Mansfield, Ohio much better. I was some disappointed in that I couldn't even find the Indiana info I needed at Ft. Wayne.

Nona and Caroline has finally worn me down and I have consented to meet them in SLC in Dec. I'm in hopes of finding old maps of the Utah Territory while there, among other things. My trip east was profitable. Had a very nice visit with Ina in West Unity, Ohio. I think I got just about all there was left to get on my Gr. Grandfather in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, which reminds me, the State Hist. Library in Iowa City, IA is a very good research library.

I sent your notation on to McCullough page back to Caroline, she can make the correction for us. I'm going up to see them next month, will only be gone Sunday-Thursday.

Glad to hear that Al is improved and that you could attend your conventions. Did you ever use the Michigan State Library at Lansing? It's very nice, I got a lot of info on my Narber/Narver family there.

Yes, I wish we could all get together somewhere, somehow. We would certainly have to limit what we worked on as, like you said, transporting records could be difficult.

I'm thinking of making a 'cousin composite' with what pictures I have of everyone. It will be a cut and paste type thing but just might be interesting.....

Write when you can, love hearing from you and keeping up on what's new.

Love,
Helen

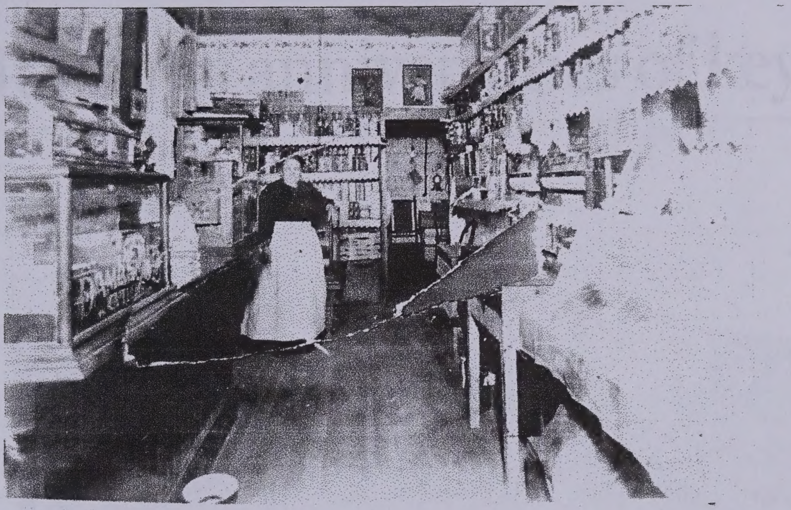
William Young & Mary (Campbell) Fickle Family Dec. 25, 1982



Anne Elizabeth Beasmore in her Confectionary and Notations store in Rocklin, CA

Mrs. Beasmore (Kinney) was born about 3 Septemeber 1845 in Roscommon, Ireland. She married on 15 March 1868, Joseph Watson born 28 October 1846 in Upper Hallam, Sheffield, Yorkshire, England. Their children were James Joseph Watson, Mary Ann Watson, Margaret Watson, and John Edwin Watson, all born in England. Her parents were John Owen and Mary (Collins) Kinney.

In 1876 the Watson family immigrated to the United States, bringing their four children with them. They lived in Lisbon, Linn County, Iowa. About 1880 Mrs. Anne Elizabeth Watson moved with her children, except son James, who remained with his father, to California and lived with Mr. Beasmore, in Rocklin, Placer County, California, where she established her confectionary and notions store.

Anne Elizabeth died 19 April 1930 and is buried in the Rocklin Cemetery.

Rocklin Historical Society

People assess the damage of the devastating 1914 fire. The blaze, The Bee reported, was discovered when Fire Chief James Clydesdale heard a faint cry for help. Fires were a constant threat to the town, which was protected by a volunteer fire department.

Holmes fired, hitting Renaldi in his right side. Marshal Renaldi fired three more imes, hitting Holmes above he heart, in his right arm and n the right shoulder.

The two men slumped to he ground, and would later lie in Sacramento hospitals. The bullet that hit the marshal struck a rib, flattening and ripping 17 holes in his inestines, which were stitched by doctors in a futile attempt o save the lawman.

The city paid Renaldi's nother $1,515 in compensaion. Holmes' saloon burned down in 1922.

"It was kind of like Rockin's OK Corral," said DeFoe.

■ Fires were a constant hreat to the town, which was protected by a volunteer fire department. Fire Chief James Clydesdale was sitting in front of the Porter Building on May 3, 1914, when perhaps he worst fire in Rocklin's history erupted. Clydesdale heard a faint cry for help that day and went around the corner of the building to see moke rolling out of a barn, according to The Bee.

The fire swept through Front Street, heavily damaging or destroying many buildngs such as barns, saloons, a hotel, an undertaker's parlor, a confectionary and notion store and a "movie show," according to The Bee.

■ The Central Pacific Railroad started transcontinental railroad construction eastward from Sacramento in 1863, according to the historical society's Day. By early 1864, tracks had crossed the Sacramento Valley floor and in March reached Rocklin's granite quarries.

The railroad used granite blocks for tunnels and culverts, and scrap granite for rail beds, as the rails extended into the Sierra.

Prior to 1864, Rocklin's Federal Census District was called Secret Ravine and the population of about 430 was centered near gold mining operations. As the quarries flourished with the coming of the railroad, and the gold dwindled, the population shifted toward the rail line.

By June 1864 the Central Pacific saw the need for a passenger terminal. History doesn't record the origin of the name for the new population center and passenger terminal, according to Rocklin historians.

However, a Central Pacific passenger timetable in June 1864 shows the Central Pacific had chosen the name Rocklin.

The fire that swept through Front Street in Rocklin in 1914 heavily damaged or destroyed many buildings, including, The Bee reported, barns, saloons, a hotel, an undertaker's parlor, a confectionary and notion store, and a "movie show."

Bad old days are recalled in Rocklin

Marshal Sam Renaldi holds an unidentified child during his days as a miner before he became Rocklin's top lawman. Renaldi died in a shootout with a saloon owner in 1914.

By Bill Lindelof
blindelof@sacbee.com

One hundred and fifty years ago Rocklin was established as a town – and 100 years ago it nearly burned to the ground.

Also a century ago, a duel at the town's Blackwell-Henderson livery stable between a trouble-making saloon keeper and the town marshal left both men dead.

The year 2014 is a big one for Rocklin history buffs.

"We are marking both a sesquicentennial and a centennial," said Dan DeFoe, president of the Rocklin Historical Society and Sierra College history professor. "The sesquicentennial marks the establishment of Rocklin – and the centennial marks the shootout that killed the marshal and the horrendous fire that destroyed downtown."

DeFoe will speak about the historical events at a talk scheduled for Sunday, covering three developments that played a key role in shaping the town's history:

■ The Feb. 18, 1914, shooting of Marshal Sam Renaldi was well-documented in The Sacramento Bee. Uledi Holmes, the owner of a downtown bar, had been drinking that day.

He had already threatened to kill an employee, Ella Hovey, who worked for him in the restaurant he ran in connection with his saloon. That evening, Holmes went to Hovey's home.

Renaldi, Constable George Willard and Willard's son also went to Hovey's home. Inside the home, they could hear Holmes once again threatening Hovey.

Willard's son Alfred went to the door and pushed it open. Holmes ordered Hovey to see who was there, and, when she went to the door, Alfred Willard grabbed her hand and jerked her outside to safety.

Later in the evening, several men, including the constable and marshal, were at the livery discussing the events at the Hovey house.

"Holmes sauntered in," according to The Bee. "He appeared in a vicious mood."

Constable Willard talked to him, moving slowly in his direction, fully aware that the barkeep carried a pistol in his hip pocket. Marshal Renaldi was partially behind the constable.

According to the historical society's account by member Gary Day, Holmes reached for his pistol and Renaldi fired. Holmes was hit in his stomach.

I know you must have given up on me by now. Well, at last I have semi-retired. I have 5 days off and work 2 days so hopefully well get to my genealogy now.

This is a start. I have other things I want to send you, as I dig it out. Thank you so much for what you have sent. It is all in envelopes (it came in) as I was afraid I would lose it in my many piles of paper. Now I can look at it, post it, and file it. I'm really getting excited. Also, Remember the Orange book you sent me? On Mathias + Benja Fickle. You put a lot of work into it. I want to take info and add to it and eventually copy it or send individual copies to you as I add so their story can grow.

Thats the trouble now I have so many things other than "Gene" to. Catch up on too. I hope this finds

Helen + Roena

Dear Caroline and Michael:

This is what was left of Dr. Wm Young Fickles journal when I recieved it from Betts. I have copied the pages from it. I will send copies to Helen and ~~Roena~~ Roena (in Pa. another of our cousins. This one I found, live, not in a book in Bryon, Ohio library. She has been interested in the Col. J. Fickles. I'm sure Helen has given you info re: her. If not let me know and I will send you her line of ancestors.

① Front inside cover of this journal:

I make out Jacob Fickle

I think I have run into him in my research in Oregon or from Helen. If so when I find it will send it. Im making a list of what I recieve from you and what I send Helen + you. as I forget.

② I don't know who wrote, "The remains of Dr. Fickles account book," on page 199

③ Yes!!! I'm finally working on getting the "stuff" I got from Watsons Salt Lake City together for myself, you and Helen. I find I got some of the same things you did. So actually I did not get that much new, startling info. But everybit Counts.

I must say you are going to make a great geneologist. You folks found in two days what it ~~too~~ would take most of us months and you are getting so well organized. We are really appreciative of all yours and Michael's work.

④ I'm still having trouble getting my 5 days off. But it is getting better. So I will finish getting what I have been gathering and send it onto you A.S.A.P.. I'm finally going to be able to enjoy my geneology.

Must close, Thanks so much for new info from England. you just sent. Will answer your letter next time.

Dear Cousin Mary

I received your letter a few days ago and was very much pleased.

I have thought for some time I would write to Minnie but I try to write to my two Sisters, each week Dosia Henry, in McPherson Kansas and my oldest sister Maggie Burns in Detroit Mich. They are both quite feeble, Dosia will be 90 the 6 of April and Maggie will be 92 the 12 of Mar. There were just four of our family, we had one brother he passed away, two years ago, he was the youngest.

arrange it and will send you a copy. I have a picture of grandmother Fickle and all her children except Uncle Will (your grandfather) and my father. If I can get a copy off of it I'll send it to you if you don't have one in the family.

I have a brief biography of my great grandfather, that came in the Bryan Times, two years ago, he was in the Revolutionary war, the American Legion dedicated a plaque to his honor in the Bryan Cemetery. I'll have it typed and send you a copy.

I wrote to Dulcie for their family record and she sent me a very good one, but I do not have your-

I have four children three girls and one boy, he is now manager of the farm,

My oldest daughter Lora Norway lives in Evanston, a Sto suburb of Chicago, they have no children my second Orpha Hilbert lives eight miles from here she has two girls Shirley Fritz who has three little girls two are twins. Her other is Eva Gaye Tomlinson they have a month old baby.

Victor is older than the girls, should have written him first, he lives in Ft Wayne They have two daughters,

Vivian Kayser- they live in Ft. Wayne have two children Gary-13-and Sharon 10, Marcelle Walworth, they live in Pittsburge Penn. they have three children David-9-Malissa -6-and Margaret-4.

That is my own family but I expect you are more interested in the ancestors and I have material collected to write up a history of the Fickle family back as far as my great grand father, but I have never seemed to have had time to write it up however now that someone is intersted I will try and fathers family.

After Dulcie passed away I was pleased to correspond with Minnie as I wanted to continue to hear from my relatives in Calif. After my father died, I was 15 yrs I always corresponded with Dulcie and always hoped she would make us a visit.

At one time I had hopes of going to California, My brother went in 1897 and I had planned to go with him but I was teaching and couldn't leave when he went

I haven't told you where my youngest daughter lives, She is Fern Stanton and lives in Lewiston, Maine, they have four girls, the two older girls are up here in Mich. in Calvert College. They are Fern Emma and Audrey. they have two younger girls at home Elizabeth 13- and Cornelia 10- Their daddy is a minister for the Orthodox Presbyterian Church. They were over in Africa for six years as missionairys, Elizabeth and Cornelia were born in Africa.

I could continue to write (or scribble rather on and on but I'm sure you will exclaime O! My! when you see the length of this.

I hope I may have the pleasure of hearing from you again.

I went to church and S.S.

this forenoon but have been alone this afternoon, I quite often go to Orpha's after church,

A great many are having the flu, but it seems to be be in a light form.

The hired man and wife who live in a part of my house have been gone all day.

Our winter has been very mild so far and it will soon be spring and I'll have a lot of work to do in the yard, I want to do quite a lot of sewing before that work comes on!

Dear Cousin Mary

I have intended to write this for some time, I hope you don't think that I didn't appreciate hearing from you, I really was very greatly pleased. One reason for my long delay is I'm waiting for some pictures my granddaughter is having finished for me.

I had a pleasant Mothers day. went to church and S.S. in the forenoon and my daughter, Orpha and husband and their two daughters, Shirley Fritz and little daughter Lorelli and Eva Gaye and baby Darcy

My birds are still coming much later than usual, I have a bird feeder by my window also put feed on the window sill, I have been feeding them for several years. They are all the insect eating species. They are quite tame.

Victor, my son, lives in Ft Wayne, is here three or four days each week, looking after the farm.

I have been very busy this spring, when they built my back porch last fall I had to move so many of my flowers temporarily and I had them all to transplant I have three different kinds of hardy ferns and the porch had to be built over a large part came for lunch, They all live quite near.

I'm expecting my daughter and husband from Evanston Ill. Friday for the week end.

We have had a very cool cloudy spring, plenty of rain but no heavy rains, everything is growing fine.

The narcissus are gone, I have hundreds of them, 4 different kinds, the early shrubs are in bloom, I have lots of Iris, Tulips peonie's, Dahlia's bleeding heart, lilies of the valley, and many others too numerous to mention. I have several roses but they are all the old fashion thorny kind.

of my ferns.

I'm sad today my very dear Sister Dosia who lived in McPherson, Kansas suddenly passed away Mon. morning her funeral is today, she was 90 the sixth of April. I went to visit her last Oct. and I am so thankful I did. She has one daughter Ewla Quackenbush of McPherson and one son of Independence Kans.

I'm sending you what I have copied of Tickle family record and will try to send you more soon.

I have been not well all winter and spring, hope you can say the same.

Love to all your family

Benjamin Fickle

Benjamin Fickle was a Marylander. His home was in Frederick County, The home also of Barbara Frietchie, and Chief Justice Roger Brook Taney. He enlisted April 6-1778 for the duration of the war, in the company of Capt. Jonathan Morris. On May 10-1778 Sgt. Benjamin Fickle took up Thomas Bowl as a vagrant, and delivered him to Cap. Morris.

On Feb. 10-1780 he was in the Fifth Regiment Continental Line, and was commissioned Captain on Feb. 19-1781. As Lieutenant he was in service on Dec. 15 1783. For his service he received a Federal Bounty Warrant for 200 acres of land and the state of Maryland gave him a pension of half pay of a Lieutenant for life. All this time he was a resident of Muskingum County Ohio.

On Dec. 27-1833 he ask for an increase of pension certifying his service in Coshocton, Co. Pike township. This led to a surmise that he had been buried in Coshocton, But this error is corrected by Charles A Bowersox on page 342 in his history of Williams County. He says "An old account says Benjamin Fickle died in October 1839 in Jefferson township and that he was buried on the Isaac Fickle farm and that in 1888 the body was exhumed and re-interred in april in Fountain Grove cemetery. But the metal marker at his grave has the name D. Fickle on it with seven stars indicating the Revolutionary war of 1776.

This error should be rectified, another source gives May 20-1839 as the date of death

His pension was last paid to Sept. 4-183
His wifes name was Phebe, They had eight Children.

The first part of this record was obtained by H.C Pemberton of Cleveland for the benefit of the American Legion of Bryan and the whole article was printed in the Bryan Press.

Gerald Lord and Mrs Gibson Fenton are shown standing (a picture was in the Press) near the bronze plaque marking the grave of Lord's great-great-great-great grandfather. Benjamin Fickle, on Memorial Day and young Lord unveiled the marker. In 1957.

Dear Cousin Mary -

I wish you all a very merry Christmas.

I really do feel ashamed that I haven't written to you sooner and sent you more of the family record, time flies so fast I can't find enough time to read and write

I can't take time to write off a record just now but will soon after Christ-mas, The next will be of Isaac Fickle, your husbands g. g. g. grand-father, about two week ago

Came with two retired
School teachers, second Cousins also your husbands second cousins. They wanted to go farther north, and to Nova Scotia. I'm expecting them back here the last of this week, then in a few days we will return home.
We had a wonderful trip

P.S. - Jan 30th
as you see I wrote this nearly a month ago. I have the family record about filled out & am waiting for Trissett Sister to come to give me their family record. were coming last week roads were too slippery

Dec. 11-'62

Dear Cousins —

We have just passed through two weeks of zero weather and some snow. but yesterday and today have been beautiful days. It's 18° above now, I didn't go to Aid last week nor the ~~get~~-to-gather club this week but I did go to church and S.S. last Sun. It was very slippery a week ago last Sunday and I didn't go.

Victor is here this week helping the hired man get up wood for next winter, we do not have a furnace, have two oil stoves and one wood stove. We have lots of wood.

My oldest daughter + husband have none, Lora + Leighton Norvey live in Evanston Ill. 1585 Ridge Ave. Apt 104. She is half owner of a dress shop. he works (and has for many years) for Bastian + Blessing Co. They make Electrical appliances, he works in the labratory and goes all over the U.S. Lora called Tuesday Eve- to know how I was standing the zero weather and Leighton was down in Arkansas then, he goes to the branch office's to inspect he was in Calif. a few months ago, when the Co. sends him there he always goes to Los Angeles too to visit his mother and Sister.

Orpha and Russel are farmers have a lot of stock especially cows.

Last Sunday I went home with my daughter Orpha & husband from Church; They had a nice dinner in honor of her husband's (Russel Hilbert) birthday which was yesterday 17th. Just had their children there. Shirley and Ward Frits' little daughters Lori age 6. Teressa and Toinette twins age 3.

George and Eva Gaye Tomlinson and little daughter Darcy age 1.

Victor, my oldest, just had two girls too, Vivian Kayser, and Marcelle Walworth, Vivian lives in Ft Wayne, they have a boy 16. and a girl 13.

Marcelle lives in Pittsburge Pa. have 3 children, David 12 Malisa 8 + Meg 6 margaret and Chickens, Orpha entertained the W.C.T.U. last Tuesday evening I went for the evening and stayed till the next evening, I cleaned and crated her eggs while there, she had over 60 doz.

Orpha's older daughter Shirley & Ward both teach in high school and live in Ney, O. which is two miles and a half from here.

Eva Gaye lives only a mile from here, I go with them to church & S.S. and many other places.

Our snow is about all gone, My birds have been very hungry since the snow came, I give them a pt of hickory-nuts, cracked, four handsfull of sunflower seed, and some bread crumbs each day. I have five different kinds that come to the window + feeder. Now I must prepare Victor a lunch, he is going home early he + Mildred are to going to Mildred's sorority dinner tonight. Love all

Feb, 9th

As you will see the first instalment of this letter was written over a month ago, I have been waiting for Rev. Truett Lister (a second cousin) to come and give me the record of Aunt Jane's and Aunt Elizabeth's family. They started three weeks ago yesterday but it was so icy they went back and it has been even more icy ever since. Just at present it is very, very icy. I stay in quite closely. I don't want to fall, many are. I'm not going to our annual Get-to-gather Club, family night dinner tomorrow night, I'm on the planning Com. but they excuse me in honor to my age when it's so slippery.

The family is quite anxious for me to get the family record completed. My grand-

Did you ever get such a jumbled up message?

It is still very icy but the main roads are clear.

I'm still waiting for Rev. Truett Lister and wife to come, but I'll send this along and will send more later.

daughter, Shirley, said Sunday she would type it then mimeograph it so the whole family could have one.

I have material to compile my mothers family record too and I want to get that done, I regret that I didn't do it several years ago for I could write so much better.

My oldest daughter is in New York this week selecting spring stock for her dress shop.

As soon as I get all the information I can, and get it finished I'll send you a more complete record and you can destroy this, It is not complete and some mistakes

Please send me a record of your family and your fathers (aloy's) family Dulcie sent me a complete record of Eva's family a number of years ago.

Careful, getting to and from the automobile,

I went to ~~an~~ a fifty year wedding anniversary in the after noon.

It is near mail time so I must hurry;

I'm sending all this to prove to you that I have not just neglected it. Love to all

Dear Cousins-

I expect you think I have forgotten you, but not, so I think of you often, but have not been in a very good condition to write, I fell the 9th of March and brake my hip, so I have been confined to bed until the last two weeks, They got me a wheeled chair and I sit in it a few hours each day, my hip is getting along fine, I guess. The Dr. is going to take an X-ray in another week and if it's all right I can have a walker. It will be a little handier than my foot yet.

We are having wonderful weather, farmers are very busy and I had hoped to do a lot among my flowers this spring So many of my perennials needed to be transplanted last fall and I'm sorry now that I neglected to do. but they all bloomed beautifully but are not lasting long, the sun is to hot.

Yesterday was Mother and daughter tea and guest day in our Get-to-gether club, that's an annual affair always a very nice time, After club two of the ladies brought me a beautiful big bouquet. I have had to miss so many Social activities that I always the wheeled chair. I was in (2)

the Hospital only three weeks. as my daughter, Fern, from Lewiston, was here on a vacation; she is a graduate nurse and she took care of me for ten days, Then the lady and her husband who live in a part of my house has taken care of me, and my son Victor, is here three or four days each and he has helped a lot.

My daughter Orpha tried to write to my correspondents to tell them of my accident, but I believed she missed you.

When they told me I would have to lie in bed twelve weeks, My! I thought that would be a terrible long time but the time has slipped by quite quite swiftly.

I'm not to put any weight ::

enjoy, for so many take (4) place in the spring, but I am very thankful. I have gotten along as well and I hope to be able to walk again.

My daughter Lora and h Husband from Chicago were here last week and usually they don't get home so often but they have come home four times since I fell.

I still have hopes of sending you a record of the Tickle family. I would like to have a record of Alvy's and your family.

Do you have uncle Will's obituary? I have a clipping from a paper Dulcie sent it, if you do not have one I'll send it to you.

Now I'm getting tired so must lie down. Love to all

Dear Cousins—

I enjoyed your letter so much and intended to answer it long before now, but I wanted to send you these articles of history and I just didn't get around to copy them, I'll send you more of the family record later. My daughter Orpha ask me about your family, I told her I didn't know, I had heard you speak of your girls and that was all, I didn't know how many, so we would appre-ciate having some infor-boy,, Todd Olyn, born Friday. I now have 11 great grand children 7 girls + 3 boys. I have no boy grandchildren so the name Kimmell will not be carried on.

My Lora daughter in Chicago is coming Fri-Oct 5th, her husband is being sent by the Co. away for several days I didn't understand just where when she called, His Co. makes Electrical supplies, he is an engeneer and inspects their labratories. Lora has a part-ner in the shop now an I can take a few days off.

Victor and Mildred have been spending two week at Port Clinton on Lake Erie

-mation about your family

I spent the day with Orpha's family yesterday. Aurthur & Nina (the family in the other part of the house) went to Auburn to the fair and the children don't want me to be left alone all day since I got my hip broken for fear I might fall and have to lay quite a while. So as they were going past Orpha's I went there. She is a very busy woman so I can always find something to do to help. Just now she has her daughter, Eva Gaye's little girl, Darcy age 3 yrs with her while Eva Gaye is in the hospital with a new baby

Mildred had two weeks vacation. She works in the office of the International Harvester Co. She could retire but she said she was going to work another year.

Ferns, Stanton our youngest girl has four girls she lives in Lewiston Maine her husband is a minister. There two oldest girls both graduated from Calvin College Mich. are married one lives at New haven, connecticut is in Yale College the other is in New Jersey he is a chemist works for a paint Co.

Now I have given quite a full account of my family.

I am quite well can walk real well without a cane but use it some for safety. --- Our church caught fire last Wed. did a lot of damage in the S.S rooms. Love to all Minnie

Dear Cousins

I know you will be glad to hear that Mother is 'almost good as new'. She uses her cane ~~some~~ but not that she needs it only for safty. And this little note is to tell you that we are having a card shower and open house for her on her birthday. She will be 90 the 14th of December. We wish you could be among the relatives there that day but as Mother says, "we want you to know you are in our thoughts anyway." (She requests please no gifts)

We were all at our daughter Shirley's home yesterday for our Thanksgiving dinner. It was kind of a sick bunch as most of us either had a cold or was just getting over one - except Mother. We were afraid she would get it from us but she thought she wouldn't - she has lots of faith in her Listerine - she said she would just put some in her throat and she would be all right - S, I hope so.

It is windy and sounds like winter around here today. But we have no snow and it's not very cold - a little below freezing. We finished our corn picking about two weeks ago. The corn crop was good - very good. All of our crops were good except beans and Russel doesn't plant many beans.

We had a fire at our Church a month or so ago and Russel is just now taking a pick-up-truck load of the burned boards ect. back to the woods to use for sugar camp wood. Before we know it, it will be maple syrup season again.

We want to wish both of you and your families all a very merry Christmas -

Love

Jan 20-63

Dear Cousins.

Please do pardon me for my long silence, I waited a while for these pictures they were taken a few days before my birthday. I enjoyed my birthday open house very much, the children were all here and 85 signed my guest book. and I received 153 greetings, The weather had moderated some, we had been having near zero weather for several days previous. We served cake, icecream, coffee & mints

This morning was a beautiful bright morning, but it became cloudy by the middle of the forenoon and Uncle Will lived in Obispo Co. in 1897 - my brother Will visited Calif. that year - and there is where uncle was living. I thought quite seriously of going with him, but I felt that I couldn't spend the time and expense unless I could teach while I was there so I wrote to Uncle Will and explained and he sent me a list of the Co. examinations questions (I have them yet) they were so different from ours that I thought I had better not run the risk of passing. That was a year before I was married. I taught for ten years.

I had a letter from my daughter [Tem] in Maine last week and they haven't had as much stormy weather as we have had.

Lora came by train for my

has been very windy. We had a couple inches of snow last night and the wind is blowing it in sheets across the fields.

I don't go out much this cold snowy weather.

I want to thank you for the news about your girls, I enjoyed that very much, and many thanks for the paper you sent. I'm proud to know I have a relative in such a good work, Is Nina your husbands sister? I also want to thank you for the picture (from the paper) of your daughters husband I like his looks very much and I am happy to know they are all active in church work such young people are needed so badly to combat the evil in our chaotic world birthday then she and her husband came by Auto, at Christmas, I have written that the children were all here for my birthday, Ferns family were not its too far, they are planning on coming next summer, her husband is a minister, she is a graduated nurse, and has been doing quite a lot of nursing since her girls have grown, two are married and two in high school

Tues. 10:30 A.M. - 8 below zero

This is our coldest day but the wind isn't blowing much. I get up late just 9 a.m. I do hate to leave my warm bed, I have an electric blanket. I think they are wonderful for old people, I expect you never have very cold weather, we will have it like this next month yet. I just got through feeding my birds I only have [illegible] different kinds this winter so far, last winter I had 7. Love to all. Minnie

Dear Cousins—

It seems like a long time since I have heard from you but I guess its my fault I don't know as I have answered your last letter I have been so busy writing up our family records that whenever I had spare moments I wrote on them I have them all completed with a few exceptions, I have written four the Kimmell, my husbands fathers family, The Lord my husbands mothers family The Fickles my fathers family and the Wasnich my mothers family. Some had it came back, it came back too, I received a letter from Minnie last week she sent me her family record and the names and dates of her fathers family, I find from that, that your husband is the same age as my second daughter, Orpha Hilbert You are not old you could make the trip over here all right and I hope we may have the pleasure of seeing you next summer. You know you can't put it off long or I may miss you and I hope that may not happen. You space has diminished so greatly the past few years that travel is not much of a problem.

Dear Cousin:-

Finally I have gotten around to write, I wanted to have some Fickle record to send you and have it all written up and will send you some but I don't have it all copied yet so will send it a part at a time

You remember you sent me a sheet from the Santa Maria Times dated No. 8-1962, it had Nina Fickle's daughter's picture in it I sent her a letter to San Luis Obispo- marked "no such address in San Luis Obispo Calif" Is Nina living? if so

Can you tell me where?

You may keep any material I send you for I will have a copy.

I have the families now all written up just on tablet paper hope to get it copied in our record book soon, I have written a few letters I have not heard from, did a lot of phoning. but with a few exceptions I have it quite complete from the great, great grandfather and some another great. those. I know I have written them up to the present time

Several years ago Dulcie sent me a record of Uncle Will's family but she had none of Alva's family on it. I'm sending it to you as I have it copied,

I didn't know I had a blank page or I wouldn't have crowded it quite so badly.

I enjoyed so much reading about your family I have thought of them so much I feel acquainted with them, I would love to see them.

We are still having bad weather not so cold some snow yet and raining this evening.

I had a phone from my oldest daughter who lives in Chicago, She had just gotten back from New York she owns a half interest in a dress shop and she + partner goes to N.Y. to order their supply of goods.

Had a letter from Fern. my daughter in Maine yesterday, They were fine, haven't had as severe a winter as we have had, They are all very busy in their church work and it is progressing fine Fern is a graduated nurse and is doing some nursing to Victor was here today but went home this evening. His wife Mildred is better able to go back to work, in the office of The International Harvester She has worked there a number of years. She could have retired last year but she likes the work and wanted to work this year yet.

Orpha was here last Sat. came this way so I could go to Wm. Center with her to the "Worlds Day of Prayer", but it was so slippery I did not go. They ~~make~~ have a maple grove and make maple syrup every spring usually a few over 100 gal. but I doubt if they can make much this spring, they usually commence in Feb. Well I think I had better close I have been doing so much writing that I just scribble, Love to the family that my two granddaughters and their husbands (Orpha's daughters) gave me for my 1962 Christmas. I enjoy it so much. I surely sympathize with you and hope your dear son find a perfect cure. I think of you so very, very often.

Our mail comes about noon, and this has been my activities since it came yesterday noon after and brought your letter. Soon after the letter arrived, a friend came unannounced and said she was going to our County Home and asked me to go along, I had been wanting to go as I hadn't been down for some time.

I see to getting a Cheer sister for each lady in the home, and they had taken in some new ones since I wanted to get their names and birthdays also to get acquainted with them.

I just arrived home when my grand daughter Shirley & family (husband Ward [illegible] and their three little girls Lori, Terri and Toni) twins, came for me to go to Orpha's for a birthday lunch in honor of the twins 5th birthday. We didn't get home till ten o'clock, and our Church was giving a dinner in the church basement for a man & wife who was our School superintendent for a number of years, but now live in Phoenix, Arizona, so I cooked eggs for an egg & cheese plate and it was after eleven when I went to bed. I stayed for the dinner but not for a visit after, as Orpha & Russel were going to the funeral of a friend and they were going to bring me home so I went with them to the funeral.

I'm expecting Fern's family from Maine the 1st of Aug. Lots of love

Now this evening Nov. 8th Ill try and finish the letter

I got ready to go to our Church at Farmer then I got a call from the lady I ride with saying the furnace blew up last evening and there would be no services, then in a few minuits She called again and said our members would go to Wm Center to services, Its about four miles from Farmer, I heard there was not much damage to our church except smoke, It was an oil furnace

This afternoon I was alone till Mr + Mrs Dodson came they were one of my nearest neighbors, they now live in Wey. about three miles east of here.

We are having wonderful weather have had all fall. quite dry, but that is favorable for corn-picking, the farmers are getting quite well finished.

When you please tell me when you write how far down the line I have sent you the Fickle record, I didn't keep a record, and if you care for more I'll send it.

My oldest daughter & husband were here for a visit two weeks ago, from Chicago.

I'm expecting my grand-Audrey-daughter and husband from Washing D.C. next month. His parents live in Grand Rapids Mich. he is a teacher in a university in Washington. They were moving last summer from New Haven Conn. ~~last~~ Then the rest of the family came, She is daughter Ferns girl.

I am real well and have done a lot of work this fall. I finished my last canning yesterday and didn't do a bit of Saturdays work. I canned 11 pt of pears Fri. and made 13 pt. of pear butter yesterday.

I hope this finds you and your family well,

Tell me more about your girls and their family's I want to feel better acquainted with them, I hope some of them can take a trip this way and visit us, we would all be so pleased to have them. Now, I must go to bed.

Sincerest love to all long as I can work and keep up my social activities quite well it really isn't old, for it is said "We are only as old as we seem."

I went to S.S. and Church yesterday. They gave me a rousing happy birthay when I gave my birthday offering.

Our Get-to-gether Club divides the members each year and each side keeps points, 50 points for attendance 15 points for answering roll call 100 points for bringing guest etc, the side that have the fewest points has to furnish the Christmas dinner and the program. I happened to be on the wining side this year not so fortunate last year. They are taking us out for dinner, at Pulaski, about six miles from south east of Bryan, It happens to be the locality the Pickle family lived in after they moved to this area.

I have wondered many times about your health I hope you are much better

Dear Cousins

It seems like a long time since I heard from you, but I guess I am to blame, for I don't know but I owe you a letter, I have been wondering about your health, both of you. I have been real well all winter just had a slight attack of the flu, it has been quite prevelent around here but not very serious.

We are having a very late spring. had at least three inches of snow yesterday and today, but it is not very cold. 30° today about noon, they are having quite a moderate winter for that section.

Fern was down to Washington for nearly two weeks to be with her second daughter, Audrey when she got her first baby a little girl. She went by bus; She is a graduate nurse, she is doing a little work in the Hospital at Houlton Maine, where she lives, now not much, she has a lot to do being a ministers wife, They have another daughter married, lives at Paterson New Jersey, and two yet at home. Elizabeth is a Senior and Cornelia it a Sofhmore.

I had a letter from my daughter in Chicago today, her husband had an operation for gall bladder trouble and they removed his apendix, a month ago he was getting along fine, he went to work last week but Friday he got Fickle (your great-grand-father) died when I was two years old. (90 yrs ago) and grandmother, always lived in her own house but in the same yard as Uncle George's family.

Dear Cousin—

It has been a long time since I have heard from you but don't think I haven't thought of you many, many times,

I am getting so negligent in writing my letters I have plenty of time but I guess I'm getting old (only not quite 95) I'm quite well but very lame yet, but am some better, but can't go without my walker. I do nearly all my own work, Nina washes my bedding, very nice to me and a lot of Company.

I received a package through the mail Sat. from Lora + Leighton, not so valuable but something I neede

I said when Lora was here, about the hardest thing for me to do was sweep the dirt up on the dust pan when I swept. I have to use bothe hands and I am not dizzy but I love my balance and apt to fall if I can't have one hand to hold on to something.

Dear cousins,

I am so sorry to have to write you that on Dec. 23 death came to my mother. She had been bedfast for about six months though much of that time she was able to sit up in a chair a little each day. She had some kidney infection which at times caused her much pain but the Dr. had pretty well taken care of that with medicine. In the end she went into a coma and slept away. She was a most cheerful and enduring person. The Lord was very near and dear to her for which I praise God and pray that I may witness for Him as her life did.

I enjoyed with her your letters as I seem to have inherited her love of birds and nature.

We are having very cold weather here all this week. It has been below zero—down to 14° below—for several mornings now, and only gets about 10° above during the day, which means that we have extra thawing out at the barn and warm water to carry.

We have had no serious trouble yet. We leave the faucets drip.

My neighbor across the road just showed me this afternoon how to make a bird feeder from a plastic bottle by cutting out three sides of it. We have snow all over the ground and with this cold weather too, its hard on the birds. I will never forget Mother's birds - how she would call and they would come from all ways.

Russel (my husband) milks cows and housing + milking requirements get more rigid all the time so he has been improving his barn to meet requirements. Its a lot of work. I tell him we are too old to keep on with so much work (we are both 67) but he has no idea that it would be nice to quit work.

I believe you had written that your husband was not so very strong. I hope he is better and that you are well also.

We would be very glad to hear from you or from any of the others of Uncle Will's family -

Your cousin
Orpha Hilbert

Dear Caroline and Michael,

I really miss not having you here with me. Our little mountaiin scenes have indeed become more beautiful each day and now with the below freezing temperatures that we are experiencing each night and with some fairly strong winds and an occasional rain the leaves are dropping rapidly. I wish you could have seen them at their peak. I don't know how I can thank you for coming and all the work you did on the computer, Michael, It's just great knowing all the things that can be done on it and I know that one by one I will be able to accomplish some of the things I want to do. Right now the final things that have to be done to my Silver Spring house are a number one priority as if all goes as planned, we will go to settlement on the 22nd of Nov. In this case I will have a tremendous "thank you" to give to the Good Lord on the following day, Thandksgiving Day. I have indeed been blessed in so many ways.

I took your card over for Al to read. He read it a couple times and I could tell he would read it and look at the roses so I set it up on the window sill and left it there. I know he will enjoy it. So, if you asked any questions I don't know what they were. Will check it out when I go aver.

I can't believe all the contacts that you have made since you arrived back home in OR. Wonderful! I think Horst gave us a lot of indirect information that may prove useful. The local FHC is just up in the New Oxford area so will run up there some evening and try to get the two publications that he mentioned. Ernest Thode was the speaker at one of our SCPGS meeting but I had trouble understanding him. His accent is pretty heavy. Perhaps the next time he is in the area I can hear him again.

I have had the little booklet where I got the map of Wythe Co., VA for quite some time. It was here that I found Mary Dunn living among the Fickles that went to VA and thought it might be Benj.- sister but didn't want to spread any more mistakes than I already had so let it go at that. It was pretty exciting to receive your packet and find that it was really true. I am sending my little booklet along since nearly all the names that were mentioned in the papers you sent can be found in the book. Thought you might want to send it to Winona and see if there are other clues that they might recognize. This little book was over on the shelves in the corner and I didn't think to pull it out. Anyway I had copied the map and it was in the family book with the information on Gabriel.

Picked up this info from somewhere! AND, so long ago that I don't remember anything about it. One of my ancestral lines that I'm searching is HALEY so jusyt copied this down.

Here's another tidbit on Robinett:

James Robinet died July 15, 1837 aged 83years.
Cemetery Stone:

James Robinett, Jr.
1754 - 1837
Revolutionary Soldier - Marker placed by Elizabeth Biemaime
Chapter, DAR, East Detroit, MI, 17 Aug. 1980
Mary Robinett

There was also a note on this same scribble sheet:
Margaret Hamilton departed this life Oct. 20 in the year of our Lord 18(3)7, aged 49 years.

I want to run over to se Al so will quit for tonight. Caroline, I hope you are getting stronger and getting everything lined up for your Salt Lake trip. Would love to be joining you. Nona called and we had a great talk. Will be thinking about you every day. Thanks again for the info. Wish I could spend some time at the libraries in DC but that is impossible at the present time. This Lewis and Winona sound like great searchers. Until the next time -

Love & prayers,

HISTORY OF W.Y. FICKLE
Oldest son if Isaac H. and Nancy Young Fickle
(copied from his obituary)

Death of Pioneer W.Y. Fickle

(passed away at the home of his daughter in Blue Lake, Calif. was in his ninety-second year.)
(short history of his early pioneer days. came to California in 1861)

Early Saturday morning, William Young Fickle, an early-day pioneer, well-known in Arcata as well as here, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Greenwood in Blue Lake after a brief illness due to old age.

He was buried Sunday afternoon, Jan. 14, under the auspices of the Blue Lake lodge of Odd Fellows. Rev. C. J. Irwin officiated. The pall-bearers were: Daniel Baldwin, Louis Schmidt, M.T. Hill, J. Partons, R.A. Redmond and H. D. Cousins.

William Yound Fickle was born in Crawford Co., Ohio, 5 Nov., 1825. His early life was spent on the home farm, but not caring for farm life, he chose the profession of physician and studied under Dr. Curtis and Dr. Cook and other eminent physicians of the day.

He was married to Sarah Ann Fulkerson on June 2, 1855. In 1860, Dr. Fickle, his wife and brother-in-law started across the plains. Other families joined making about a hundred families altogether. They traveled as far as Salt Lake City where they spent the winter. In the spring of 1861, he came to Sacramento where he practiced as a physician for five years. In 1866, he moved to Seattle, Wash. His health not being good at that place, he came to Arcata in 1869, where he followed his profession for a number of years. Not caring for that line of business, he went to San Luis,Obispo County where he homesteaded a farm and engaged in dairying until 1907 when he and his wife came to Blue Lake to reside with his daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Greenwood.

His wife died Feb. 12, 1919. He continued to reside with his daughter here until the time of his death.

He leaves a son, Alva Fickle of Southern California, a daughter, Mrs. E. Greenwood of Blue Lake, and one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Towers of Ohio.

(copied from obituary sent to me(Minerva Kimmell) in 1917 by grandaughter of W.Y. Fickle. I sent original to grandson and family in Santa Maria, Calif. 1962)
This William Young Fickle was a grandson of Benjamin Fickle.

Dear Roena

Thank you for your last letter. I always enjoy hearing from you. You write such interesting letters.

I have, at last, put all my pictures in an ancestral album using acid free covers etc. It took two full weeks and I had stacks of pictures everywhere. I am so happy to have accomplished that task. I used a loose leaf binder so I can add more pictures as they become available.

The first two pictures are both labeled W. H. Lockhart Gallery, Bryan, Ohio. Could the man be Isaac Hedge Fickle and women is Nancy Young (Fickle). Next set has nothing on the back. Aunt Minnie (one of Daddys older sisters and keeper of the album) thought it was an Aunt & Uncle. Don't know if it is a Fickle picture or Young or Fulkerson. The two (3rd pict) girls are labelled Amelia A. Vans (right) and Nancy E. Vans (left). Don't know if you had these. I didnt see them when we were at your home. The only picture I have (from you) is a small picture of Mary Fickle (Vans) was that all you had or did I just overlook something? Meant to get all siblings & their families.

Anyway I hope you can identify these pictures for me. The album originally belonged to Dr. William Young Fickle and Sarah Fulkerson, my great granparents. Aunt Minnie, as oldest surviving (of that) daughter kept it and later sent it to Daddy for me to have because I was so extremely interested in family history. I hope you can identify the people.

Sounds like you are very, very busy this year. Hope we can get you back to [illegible] again soon! Helen is booking her room for S. L. C so it will be another fun reunion. She even took a class on how to research at the library there.

What did you think about the McCullough and Tickle connection in Indiana and later on to California?

We have had some sunny days with rain at night, but today is cold and preparing for afternoon rain. The garden is absolutely gorgeous. Wish you could come and see it and I wish we could see you.

Becky (excuse me, Mary) and Wade and Elizabeth are arriving next week for five days. Elizabeth has just started walking. They are absolutely thrilled with her. She is a very bright child for which I am thankful since Becky is a genius and this will be better for Becky.

I am still gradually getting better. I can pull a few weeds now which delights me very much.

Love Caroline

P. S. In regards the add on digestive aids. None of the items are anything I am familiar with. I do know from reading that most people need more digestive acid not less and most over-the-counter remedies are anti-acid which makes the problem worse. Then people eat more because the body is suffering from malnutrition since the food cant be digested properly. I take additional digestive ~~[illegible]~~ aids to help this problem. Since I have an iron deficiency (common with lupus) I felt I needed all the help I could get. For healthy digestive tract I take blue green algae. And for better circulation I take ginko, Also take grape seed extract for general strength. If you have a good health food store They can recommend products. Ours seems to be less expensive than the mail order houses.

Dear Roena,

Just a few odds & ends for you. I thought you might enjoy another Oregon Coast before you come here in October. This issue has several articles about places near our home. See page 30 and 32. Also page 28, 47, 56 and the cover.

Steve Leeds, cousin, is coming in August to work on gene. We have a very good copy house here now, that makes excellent laser copies. So now we don't have a four hour roundtrip to get laser copies. This is a big help with our gene when cousins come to work on gene.

Helen says Craig is slowly getting better but it doesn't sound too good.

Now we need to get ready to go to S.L.C. I finally filed everything from last year. Michael still has a stack of paper 12 inches tall. We need more rainy days so he can work on it.

Love Caroline

FIRST CROSSING GATE–Santa Maria Valley Railroad has installed the first crossing gate in the city at Depot and Jones Streets. The mechanical safety device was put in operation by Bill Fickel, right, and Ed Doneldson, partially obscured, both SMVRR employes. Assisting in the installation of the crossing gate was W.T. Stockstill, sales representative of Railroad Accessories Corp. the major supplier of the equipment. Another crossing gate is contemplated on Broadway, according to a railroad spokesman.

FLOWING S.M. RIVER

The headwaters of the Sisquoc River reached the Suey Crossing, at the northeast point of Santa Maria, at 8:30 a.m. yesterday. It marks the first time the Santa Maria River has had a water flow in the nearly three years since the two "50-year storms" of 1969. But Twitchell Dam, which does not receive water from the Sisquoc River, still is without water despite improved rainfall this season. Shown watching the river from the Suey Crossing Road bridge is Bill Fickle of Santa Maria. —News-Press photo

Elect Stanley Brown Chairman Of City Planning Commission

H. Stanley Brown was elected chairman of the City Planning Commission by members meeting last night, succeeding Terry Neel as head of the local unit for the forthcoming year. William Y. Fickle was elected vice-chairman and Clarence Winter was re-elected secretary.

The Commission, hearing a plea by Arnold Van Wyk, Santa Maria Junior College district superintendent, that "no action" be taken at this time on the proposed extension of Airport avenue, recommended to the City Council that the matter be tabled until such time as the school board has final plans for Allan Hancock College and land use requirements..

Van Wyk told the meeting that "there is no immediate rush on the extension plan; I would like to see the matter held in abeyance until our architects can furnish us with final plans for the buildings and land requirements at the college. At that time, it would be well to study the matter further."

Due to there not being six members of the Commission present last night, there was no public hearing, as scheduled, on the variance request of Alma Prickett who wants to establish a beauty parlor at 823 W. El Camino. The public hearing was rescheduled for Nov. 8, next meeting date of the group.

Another request for variance to establish a beauty parlor in Fairmount Manor, by John Chandler, 809 Laguna, was also continued until Nov. 8.

City Administrator Robert H. Oldland and City Engineering Superintendent William Litzenberg submitted several subdivision regulation amendments to the Commission which recommended their adoption to the City Council.

Included in the changes were: street surfacing width changed from a minimum 36 feet to minimum 40 feet; water mains shall be at least six inches in diameter instead of the present four-inch minimum, and light and gas facilities shall conform to standards established by the respective utilities, with gas mains to be installed to the street or alley property line prior to any servicing.

FOUR PLANNING COMMISSIONERS NAMED BY CITY

Four new members were appointed to the City Planning Commission on Monday night by the city council after letters of resignation, almost identically worded, were read from the four pervious commissioners.

Approval was given by the council to Mayor Leonard Petersen's proposal of the names of William Fickle, H. Stanley Brown, Henry LaFranchi and Ed McCoy.

Those resigning were Ross McCabe, M. N. Firfires, A. S. George and J. H. Kirk. Each stated in his letter of resignation that for "personal reasons" he felt he could no longer serve on the Planning Commission. The mass resignation was rumored following the last city council meeting when the council over-ruled the commission's recommendation concerning width of street right-of-way to be dedicated in Mrs. Sadie West's new Gibson Tract subdivision.

LaFranchi was named to fill the term of Kirk, which expires on October 1, 1955, and McCoy to the term of George, which expires on October 1, 1957. Terms of McCabe and Firfires would have expired on October 1 of this year, and Fickle and Brown were appointed to four year terms as of that date.

In other business the council agreed that any freeway hearing they should call await written notice from the State Highway Commission, after which the city may legally request a hearing.

Director of Public Works John Raymond was instructed to prepare specifications for a per acre basis bid on the leasing of the sewer farm property which is not being retained this year for Future Farmers work of the high school.

Building Inspector Gaylord Jones reported that the new city jail building is about 10 per cent ahead of schedule in construction by the J. W. Bailey Co. Councilman James Macdonald, police commissioner, stated that the fourth installment of $20,626.52 had been paid the Bailey firm, making the jail about 48 per cent paid in construction.

U. S. Develops Super Type Hydrogen Bomb

So Awesome Test Delayed

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — The United States has developed a "Super-giant" H-bomb with the explosive punch of nearly 45 million tons of TNT and the "probable" capacity to knock out a nation, a new book on the weapon said today.

The authors, James R. Shepley and Clay Blair Jr., of Time Magazine, reported that the estimated power of the bomb is so awesome that officials decided not to risk setting it off during the Eniwetok tests this spring.

When the first bomb fired during the tests released more than twice the destructive power that the scientists had anticipated, Shepley and Blair said the estimated strength of the "super-giant" was scaled sharply upward, "near the practicable limit of thermonuclear weapons, 45 megatons, 2400 times the force of Heroshima."

The government has never said publicly how much power it thinks the big bomb packs. But informed sources revealed last May that it was officially rated at between 40 million and 45 million tons of TNT.

"It seems doubtful that any people actually could survive the shock of, say 1000 'obsolete' 500-kiloton 500,000-ton bombs," Shepley and Blair wrote. "It seems more than probable that no people could survive if one substitutes in the equation the potential 45 megatons of the thermonuclear bomb."

The book, "The Hydrogen Bomb," will not be published until Sept. 30.

Mayor Petersen Names Brown, Fickle, LaFranchi, McCoy

The resignations of four members of the City Planning Commission were formally accepted last night by the City Council and Mayor Leonard S. Petersen, with approval of his fellow Councilmen, appointed four new members to replace them. The four: two named to new terms of office; two as "replacements," are:

H. Stanley Brown.
William Fickle.
Henry LaFranchi.
Edward D. McCoy.

Mayor Petersen went a step farther. He said he would like to see the City Planning Commission expanded to a nine-member board with at least two of the members being women.

"City beautification, among other things, is an important factor in our city planning," said Mayor Petersen. "The women have a knowledge often denied to men. I think that the Planning Commission should have the benefit of the woman's view on civic matters."

He instructed City Atty. Richard M. Clare to study the drafting of a city ordinance that would make it mandatory for the city to have a nine-member City Planning Commission, with "at least" two members being of the female sex.

"Another ordinance — if possible," commented Clare,

Bautista is Sentenced to Six Months

Dometrio Bautista, 49, farm hand, was yesterday sentenced to serve six months in the county jail on a charge of simple assault and battery against Victor Ramos.

Sheriff's Capt. Roy Oxford said that Bautista attacked Ramos with a knife, stabbing him in the stomach, then in a suicide attempt, turned the knife on himself. Oxford shot the knife out of his hand, inflicting a wound in Bautista's hand as he did so.

Judge Morris Stephan presided at the hearing which required an interpreter for Bautista.

In other cases before the court, Fidurico Chavez of Nipomo was fined $50 plus $3 assessment, for driving without a valid operator's license. An interpreter told the court that Chavez had tried four times to get a new operator's license but could not due to poor vision. Judge Stephan advised he

Dog Law Asked Soon By Petersen

The end result of a 45-minute discussion on dogs and ordinances designed to govern them (and their owners) came last night at City Council session when Mayor Leonard S. Petersen appointed City Atty. Richard M. Clare, Atty. Robert L. Trapp, and Elmer F. Koch, citizen and member of the Santa Maria Safety Council, a "committee of three to draft a suitable ordinance (on dogs) for Santa Maria."

The appointments followed an open discussion deliberately opened by the mayor and highlighted by speeches of exceptional character by Clare, Trapp, Koch, Cale Lyman, owner-manager of The Pet Shop; Chief of Police Frank McCaslin, and Councilmen Curtis Tunnell and James D. Macdonald.

Where's the Fire? Firemen Inquire

By JIM GARRETT
Associate Editor

The old story about the patrolman who sirened a motorist to the curb and inquired, "Where's the fire?" could bear repeating at the local fire house.

Santa Maria firemen have been perplexed by a number of fire reports which fail to give an adequate description of the location of a reported blaze.

And many city residents still call the county fire department, which relays the call to the city police who in turn notify city firemen. A few minutes delay in some instances means the difference between a quickly controlled or an uncontrolled fire.

County firemen last week received a phone call reporting a fire on McClelland. The phoner did not designate whether north or south McClelland.

City police relayed the call to city firemen, who dispatched fire fighting equipment both north and south on McClelland to find the fire. Fortunately it was only a small shed blaze four blocks south of the fire station at McClelland and Cook.

Short Street

City planners are often in disagreement on what constitutes a good street pattern. Most of them are opposed to gridiron patterns because the intersecting cross streets create an increased traffic hazard.

One means of breaking up the straight north-south, east-west layout is a cul de sac (a street which dead-ends on an oval and resembles a key-hole).

City firemen don't particularly like cul de sacs because it is difficult to get fire trucks to the houses at the rear of a cul de sac and then get the equipment out again.

Planner Bill Fickle apparently agrees with firemen. When planning commissioners indicated cul de sacs were all right if they weren't too long, Fickle remarked:

"They should be short enough so that the tail lights of a fire truck would hang out when the front of the truck is at the other end."

Big Bargain

Many of the city's service club and fraternal organizations are planning to participate in an open air rummage sale to be held Aug. 20 in the Safeway parking lot.

Safeway manager Bob Hill regards the event as a king-sized white elephant sale.

In fact, a real white elephant was offered to any organization which wanted to pay the transportation cost from Los Angeles.

Ride 'em Cowboy

Guadalupe's Tuffy Serpa had a rugged time in the recent San Diego Sheriff's rodeo held in Balboa Stadium.

Reports from the city tell of the narrow escape the 27-year-old rodeo clown had when carried into an inner fence by a charging Brahma bull.

Serpa, who has had two arms broken in six years work as a rodeo clown, escaped injury when the fence was torn loose by the bull's wild charge. He crawled underneath the fence while two other clowns and cowboys came to his aid.

The Guadalupe lad, who has performed many times in the local Elks rodeo, was also credited with saving the life of a bull rider. Serpa tossed his clown's cape over the head of a charging Brahma as the bull reared to pounce atop a fallen cowboy.

Newest Missile

Have you heard of the newest addition to the missile arsenal? It's a civil service missile. It won't work and you can't fire it.

Seeing Things

Californians will begin to see photographs on their drivers licenses within four to six weeks.

This startling announcement caused Times staffers to take a quick peak at their wallets this week to see if any photograph had yet appeared, as if by magic.

The intention of the report, of course, was to announce that future drivers licenses would bear pictures of the applicant. A well-meaning written word, as journalists often learn the hard way, can all too often be interpreted to mean something else.

Planners Ask Development Plan on 'Row'

Speedup of plans for redevelopment of "Whiskey Row," the blighted East Main Street block at Broadway, was given rocket impetus Wednesday. The Santa Maria Planning Commission recommended that Larry Wise, planning consultant, draw up preliminary plans for stores and parking spaces.

One corner of the block, at Main and McClelland Streets, was purchased last week by First Western Bank, now located at 110 W. Cypress St. The bank's building would complement the rest of the buildings to be put up at the corner of Main Street and Broadway. The remainder of the block, with Chapel Street on the north side, will be devoted to parking space.

A central plaza was suggested as main attraction of the development.

"This is the most important step ever taken in Santa Maria," Mayor Curtis Tunnell said. "We want to have the most discussion possible on this plan. The Redevelopment Agency, which is the City Council, the Planning Commission and the city staff of engineer, attorney, building inspector, public works director and city administrator will work together,"

The commission met in regular session for lunch at the Santa Maria Club.

The mayor continued his visualization of the reclaimed block as "something beautiful of which we all can point to with pride..

"This has to be something good. We are taking a drastic step, taking people's property away. We want this development to be a credit and benefit to the entire city."

His reference to "taking people's property away" was to the redevelopment agency's buying the set of stores with their bars and card rooms left on East Main street when the bank building is started.

The mayor said the agency, has sufficient money to purchase the property, estimated to cost somewhere about $100,000 to $150,000.

He said that a department store in San Luis Obispo is interested in taking part of the land. "Another possible tenant is Roos-Atkins clothing chain," he said, "or someone else of that nature."

Another department store also was mentioned as a possible tenant. This type of occupancy would probably want space with a basement, mezzanine or full second story, it was noted.

There are no restrictions to height of buildings to be placed on the improved block, Tunnell said. The area is zoned planned commercial.

"The bank's coming to this block is one of the best things that could have happened," the mayor said, "The foot traffic it will create, along with other businesses to come into the block, will be of indirect benefit to assessed valuations of adjoining properties."

Commissioner William Fickle, while favoring Commissioner Kenneth Treft's motion to hire Wise for the preliminary plan on a daily architect be asked to add their idea.

Wise promised to deliver a plan and an alternate as soon as possible. The mayor again spoke for speed in the redevelopment project.

Petersen Is S.M. Planner Head

SANTA MARIA Oct. 18 (VNS) Leonard Petersen was re-elected chairman of the Planning Commission at a regular meeting held Wednesday night.

Also re-elected were William Fickle, vice-chairman and Mrs. Dorothy Lyman, secretary.

A resolution was adopted and hearing date set for Wednesday, Nov. 5, at 8 p.m. on the following: No lot or parcel of land having principal frontage upon a dedicated street shall be considered a building site unless or until full improvements including streets, curbs, and gutters and utilities are installed to the minimum standards established by resolution of the city council.

The commission adjourned to Wednesday at 11:30 in the Santa Maria Club.

Professional City Staff Saves Many Mistakes

To the Editor:

As vice-chairman of the City Planning Commission, I welcome the interest of Mr. McGray, Mr. Phillips, and others who have written the Times regarding city affairs.

I should like to invite them to attend meetings of the Planning Commission and see first hand the many detailed, complex, and difficult matters the city has to deal with. They will also see how necessary are the professional staff members — the city administrator, engineer, attorney, director of public works. Without their information and background, intelligent policy decisions would be impossible.

When these people see the thousands, sometimes millions of dollars involved in our decisions, they would also see how costly trial-and-error methods would be. With trained staff personnel assisting us, we can avoid trial-and-error — we can avoid other communities' mistakes.

A few dollars spent studying city problems can sometimes save thousands, even hundreds of thousands of dollars. And mistakes in city planning can be awfully permanent . . .

We most cordially invite everyone sincerely interested in our city's problems to visit our meetings.

Planning Policy Proposed

A booklet outlining policy of the Santa Maria Planning Commission was suggested at its meeting Wednesday night.

Commissioner William Fickle proposed a stated, printed procedure, especially in the area of tree planting, removal and parkway adjustments.

The suggestion arose from three requests for permission to leave gravel and airox as parkways, The locations involved are at the homes of D. A. Jackman, 839 E. Fesler St.; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Jones, 829 E. Fesler St.; and Mrs. Darryl S. Pruner, 703 N. Concepcion St. All are in the Mira Loma subdivision.

The matter of permission was tabled for further discussion with Larry Wise, city planning consultant. Wise will attend the Sept. 23 luncheon and evening meetings of the commission.

No action was taken on the publication of the commission's policies.

Approval of a use permit for a V-type neon sign was given Kirklen's Furniture, 215 W. Main St.

A use permit was granted to C. E. Williams, Inc., to establish a storage yard and office at 707 S. Curryer St. for six months.

The commission recommended annexation of 40 acres of the Ruiz property in the northeast section of the city. The land, east of the proposed freeway, has its southwest corner at Bradley and Donovan Roads.

Fire zoning for Broadway Plaza shopping center near the proposed Vandenberg Hotel on South Broadway was discussed briefly, but no action taken.

Subdividing Sacrifice

City Retains Wide Streets

Subdivider Leo Steinberg yesterday agreed to sacrifice two lots in the proposed Orchard Park subdivision so that the city may maintain its wide-street reputation.

The City Planning Commission pared two lots off of the 60-home subdivision rather than decrease the width of North Railroad to 40 feet, size of a secondary street.

Steinberg pointed out that 40 feet was a rather wide street, compared to those in many cities. Commissioner William Fickle quickly countered that Santa Maria takes pride in its wide streets, and was supported by Henry LaFranchi who said he would not like to see the width of the street decreased.

The proposed Orchard Park subdivision is located on 12 acres bounded on the north by Donovan, the south by Orchard and on the west by Railroad.

Steinberg told planners he would lose 10 lots if Railroad were to be a major street, as proposed in the city's master street plan. He said he would be required to give 17 feet along the west side of the property to the city for the street.

By changing the size of the western lots from 60 to 100 to approximately 66 by 92, planning commissioners showed Steinberg he would only lose two lots.

The move satisfied both the subdivider and planners, and commissioners waived the minimum lot depth of 100 feet to allow the change to be made.

Steinberg also revealed that he would like to present plans for 10 or 12 homes on a proposed Army Reserve armory site located on the northwest corner of the EL Camino Park subdivision now under construction.

The planning commission also approved tree removal requests from Clara S. Beall, 323 West Cypress; W. S. Edwards, 221 North Smith and J. J. Moore, 723 South Lincoln. They approved planting of two trees on School as requested by L. S. Bledsoe, 501 East Central.

New Zone Idea Gets Proposal

The creation of a seperate zone for business and proffessional office was suggested at the City Planning Commission meeting Wednesday night by Vice-Chairman William Fickle.

City Administrator Frank Fargo told the commission he would like to discuss further the possibility of establishing such a zone.

Fickle said the new zone might be use as a buffer betwen central commercial (C-2) zoning and R-3 (multiple residential) zoning in order to keep apartment houses farther away from the C-2 areas.

He said that his proposed zone would prevent apartment houses from being constructed in an area where much of the small business and professional offices are now locating.

Such types of offices are tending to leave the highly commercial areas and are locating in multiple residential areas, he added.

Fickle said there will eventually be an established density in R-3 zones, and this new zone acting as a buffer would stop a high density in an area devoted to professional and business offices.

He urged the rezoning of some of the present R-3 zones into such a special zone.

Dear Uncle Bill,

It seems strange to be writing to you after all these years! It must be a surprise to you.

I got your address from my brother, Arlo. He seems to know where our relatives are. Aunts Edna, Frances & Florence exchange Xmas cards with a letter to them. I understand Aunt Grace doesn't see anyone, and that Uncle Bill is well thought of in his community. I understand your wife, Mary, has poor hearing (or vision), I'm sorry about that.

I'm writing to thank you for all the kindness and attention you gave me when we were young. You may not recall those times after all these years, but they meant a lot to me, as a quiet, lonesome, sensitive child.

I guess I was fairly strong, for a girl, as I seemed to hold my own quite well with you, or you let me think so.

So those are all pleasant memories of companionship with you, my Uncle Bill. It would be so nice to see you again.

I went on to San Jose State Teachers College; my Aunt Ida paying my room & board & buying a few of my clothes. College books, tuition, & so on I worked summers in tourist hotels and resturants & candy stores to pay for.

I met my dear husband, George, kind & gentle, ~~at~~ through friends in San Jose. We married in 1930, after I had taught school at Santa Margarita for two years. That ended my teaching for a while as married teachers were not hired. When our son, Raymond, was a couple years old, we left him at his grandmother's until we were through work at Agnew State Hospital, for the insane. (Depression years)

I worked there for ten years & then they were begging for teachers, married or not, so I taught in the county for fourteen more years. George became a carpenter repair man at the State Hospital for 24 years. We are both on state retirement pensions now with our health insurance paid for by the state, beginning with this year. We retired in 1961 and lived at Palm Spring area in a 22 ft. travel trailer in the winter for the past ten years, a neighbor youth caring for our small home with a large yard. ~~Sin~~ We traveled by trailer through most of the western states, but now we just enjoy our home & working in the yard. We are 73 (me) and 79 (George), both in good health.

How much older are you than I am, 4 to 6 years?

With fond memories of you, your niece, Ruth (ie) Burleson.

Please write. Best wishes to Mary.

C1198.2

I first remember you in front of ~~the~~ our barn at Fairfield when I came home from school. I picked up something at the road in front of our place & brought it in & asked you what it was. You were startled but kindly told me to throw it away, it was nothing I wanted.

When I was in High School in San Luis Obispo, about sixteen, you kindly looked me up and took me for a ride & talked to me. Several times you came & once took a picture of me in front of my Aunt Ida's house. I still have that picture. She was so strict & unloving, I enjoyed those visits of yours.

Then, when I went for two years to Junior College in Santa Maria & lived with Aunt Nina in Orcutt, you lived there too & slept on a bed in the screened in porch. There you took me for rides too and we used to wrestle in the kitchen, remember?

Dear Roena,

Hope you are fully mended and was able to attend the Elderhostel program you mentioned - computer class. The one I took at Sr. Citizens Ctr was not what I have and since I could not get any answers out of him to my questions I did not continue on with the next sessions. I am still debating whether or not to re-up my computer. I understand Nona and Dave are doing well with their PAF program.

I made my quick trip to Portland the second week in July with a friend to see the Chinese Exhibit. When I got back and visited my Mother I decided I should cancel my Elderhostel in Utah and Idaho with Jane and Ralph, which I did. I was to leave Sunday, July 21 and my Mother passed away Monday, July 22. I am sure glad that I did, cancel that is. I wrote the obit and the staff writer called and wanted to do an article on her, which pleased us all. So, it has been a trying and busy last few weeks for all of us, tomorrow the ashes will be placed in my brother's grave.

I still have my tickets to SLC on Delta worth $80.00 so maybe one of these years I'll go when you all go to the library. Can't this year as I am still scheduled to leave for Australia Oct. 31th.

I am sending you some reference material I found in the Antique Week and newsletters. I should get busy and re-submit a request for my father's army records, WWI. Hopefully his is one of the 100's of files found. Have been trying to convince myself that I should dig into this huge 'in' basket and do some genealogy....

I'm looking forward to my trip to Elko, NV on Aug. 12th. I've missed the past four conventions of the Oregon-Calif. Trails Assc. When I have the chance I look into the possible routes that Great Grampa took to Calif. All I have to go by are the vague descriptions in his notes. I'll drive over, it will be great to hit the highway again for more than just across town or down to SF.

Caroline sent me a copy of a letter from a Rudolph who talks about the cemetery in Scott County. I think that Benjamin's wife (Rebecca?) would have died before about 1800 long before he wandered up to Ohio and would possibly be closer to Maryland ~~side~~ area..... But heaven only knows.

Hope you are doing well. Take care.

How you can help librarians become genealogy 'educated'

by John W. Heisey
for AntiqueWeek

Did you ever realize that some things attract genealogists like honey attracting bees? It's true. Take libraries, for instance. No matter what family is involved, or what facet of genealogy is concerned, sooner or later every researcher will head for the library. In fact, for many folks, the library is believed to be the answer for every question or problem.

Whether you agree or not isn't the point here. The point is that often a librarian hasn't the foggiest notion of how to help genealogists – any genealogist, in fact. It's unfortunate but true that many librarians, even those working in the reference section, don't know the first thing about genealogy. Actually, some may even hate the idea of tracing family background. This does not pertain to all librarians, only some.

Today genealogy is one of the most popular hobbies in this country. That being the case, librarians ought to be prepared and have at least a basic knowledge about genealogical research and how to do it. Even if he/she doesn't know what answer to give a genealogy researcher, the librarian should know where to find the answer, and that's the point of this article.

One solution for librarians not having any genealogy training or courses would be for every library to have at least one or two good words on hand for reference. Two of the best books currently available on the subject are:

1. Genealogical Research and Resources: A Guide for Library Use, by Lois C. Gilmer (Chicago: The American Library Association, 1988). While this little book is somewhat outdated in view of the source books referenced, still it's useful for the extensive bibliographies it has for primary and secondary sources, and the overall advice needed by librarians.

2. Library Service for Genealogists, by J. Carlyle Parker (Detroit: Gale Research Company, 1981), which is Vol. 15 of the Gale Genealogy and Local History Series. Again a bit outdated in light of the number of research guides and "how-to" genealogical works having been reprinted in the past few years. However, the work is extremely valuable and should be in every library (public, college/university, and special type) whether it holds genealogical collections or not.

This book titled Library Service for Genealogists is especially valuable for its advice. Among the topics about genealogy are chapters on collecting basic genealogy books, the role of the library in genealogy and local history, how to determine what patrons need for their research, and listings of books, sources, indexes, writing family histories, directories, coats of arms and names.

Among "unique research services" mentioned in this work are addresses for services available for free, for rental, by computer, for the blind and physically handicapped and for missing persons. Various types of genealogical charts are pictured and there's even a checklist of sources and resources for genealogical researchers. Case studies of typical problems asked by researchers are added, as well as suggested source books and materials needed to answer such queries. Even with no genealogical background, a librarian ought to be able to provide minimum assistance to library patrons asking for help with their family research.

Now that's all well and good, but there's one little detail which might be overlooked. That's the actual source books needed to help the local genealogist. Obviously no one library can have all the books suggested or needed, so the librarian has to have some idea of where some of those required sources may be found. It's possible that some could be obtained via interlibrary loan, but not all.

One solution to that problem would be a brief listing of a nearby genealogical/local history organizations or other libraries where such sources could be, or might be found. Genealogy, therefore, would become not a one-time project for librarians, but an ongoing one, with attention being paid to new and revised books and services being noted in the listing as needed. Addresses of specific genealogical and historical societies (local and/or otherwise) should also be kept up-to-date in libraries.

How can you help? Although you might think that it's the librarian's job to get the necessary genealogical volumes, don't forget that many librarians might not be aware of which books are desired or needed. You can offer suggestions for such books, and, most of all, help by donating funds for the specified purpose of purchasing one or more volumes. If each local researcher would provide funds for one or more books, or even band together with others to do so, it would ease the financial strain on the library. As many folks often donate a book in memory of a loved one, this could be your way of doing that and having genealogical sources on hand for use by you and many others. Help make your library "genealogist friendly." Show your librarian this article, too!

LETTERS . . . TO GENEALOGY WEEK

Develop 'Home Page'

From Bonnie Strawn-Miller, JCK Center Suite 6-208, Westminster, MD 21157.

The information that I requested to be placed in the AntiqueWeek genealogy section (Letters to Genealogy Week, Mar. 4, 1996 issue) brought many comments and replies to the Strawn Family project. In February, we launched a Home Page titled "Genealogical Journeys in Time" on the WWW. We not only have the Strawn project on this page but other genealogical materials which include queries & surnames of other researchers. Address for Web page, Genealogical Journeys in Time is as follows: http://ourworld.compuserve.com/homepages/Strawn. My E-mail address is: Strawn@prodigy.com

Suggestions, Offer to help

From Richard Hatfield, 310 Maryland Ave., #17A, Pt. Pleasant Beach, NJ 08742.

I don't understand why M.B. of Baltimore had a problem getting a death certificate in New Jersey. One only has to go to the N.J. Board of Health in Trenton to obtain same.

They are indexed by counties so she could start with Warren Co. where Phillipsburg is located and work from there. The death certificates I have on my Weldon ancestors were obtained by requesting them at a counter and paying for them.

Armed then with dates of death, she could go to the Phillipsburg Library and find the newspaper of that date.

P.S. – If she would write to me, I would try to help her.

Some Important Dates

- 1727 Start of mass immigration of Palatines into Pennsylvania.
- 1748-1775 At least 9,332 convicts transported from England to Maryland.
- 1751 Marylanders and Pennsylvanians migrate to northwestern Carolina and settle the back country.
- 1757 Settlement of eastern Tennessee.
- 1770 Four hundred New England families migrate to Natchez, Miss.
- 1774 Pennsylvanians migrate to Kentucky.
- 1775 The Wilderness Road laid out by Daniel Boone to Kentucky. This later becomes another great migration route to the West.
- 1788 Many Connecticut people migrate to the newly-opened Northwest Territory and found Marietta, Ohio.

Questions, Commentary by the Genealogy Staff

This column looks at specific problems encountered in the researching process. Send question c/o Genealogy Sources, AntiqueWeek P.O. Box 90, Knightstown, IN 46148 or Suite 220, 525-K E. Market St., Leesburg, VA 22075 or P.O. Box 2022, Mechanicsburg, PA 17055. Note – We can't do research on a family but will try to suggest new approaches to your problem. There is no charge.

Advice on next approach

Q. – Perhaps you could suggest a new approach that would help me find some information on my family. For the past 10 years, I've been trying to learn why my family name was "Grim". My parents were Howard Milton Grim and Virginia Branner Grim; my paternal grandfather was Charles Milton Grim; and my paternal g-grandfather was Jacob Franklin Grim, b. 1835, of Lantz Mill (Shenandoah Co., Va). On his marriage license, Jan. 15, 1857, to Mary Ann Hollar, he stated he was 22, a day laborer, and the son of Peggy. He said his father was "unknown." My questions begin with this Peggy.

I have searched the census records, the deed books, the wills, cemetery records, Confederate Military records and family legends. About 2 years ago , I learned that Peter Grim had an account at Arthur & Miller's Store in Lantz Mill between 1830 and 1834 (at least). I have done some work on this Peter, particularly his request for a Revolutionary War pension. Those records indicate that Peter enlisted in the War in 1780 and served until 1782. He did receive a pension in 1818. He said in his pension request:

"My occupation is a shoemaker, but this sickness I am unable to pursue it properly and being unable to work at all, my wife and two daughters live with me. My wife is 69 years old and unable to do work. My daughters are able to work but have 5 small children to support."

This information is validated in the Census of 1830. Peter Grim died in 1838. I wonder if my Peggy is a daughter of granddaughter of Peter. Lantz Mill is such a tiny little village that I can't imagine all the "Grims" living there not being related. Any sources you could direct me to will be greatly appreciated. – M.G.D., Madison, VA.

A. – Probably the most important thing about your dilemma is that Peggy was a nickname for Margaret. If you have not taken that into consideration you should go back through all sources searched so far and look for Margaret. (We assume that you are already checking under, Grimm.)

The Family Tree Maker CD-ROM has a Family Finder index that indexes many other CD-ROMs (totaling millions of names). There are a number of Jacob Grim and Margaret Grim listings in the index. One of them lead to the CD, World Family Tree, Vol. I. On this disk is a Margaret Grim born 1781, the wife of Jacob. While this doesn't match exactly it is an indication that this source could be of help. This genealogy software is available from Broderbund Software (1-800-474-1933).

Be sure and check the resources at your local LDS (Mormon) library. The nearest to you is probably the one at the LDS Church on Hydraulic Road in Charlottesville (804) 973-9856.

Stymied in research

Q. – I am stymied in my search for the parents of Jacob Leighty of Lancaster Co., PA, b. there Jan. 8, 1789, d. Wabash Co., IL, July 1, 1866. He supposedly had a brother, Ludwig Leighty. Jacob M. Sarah Lavina Hershey in PA. She was b. Oct. 24, 1790. Sarah had a brother Jacob Hershey who lived in Westmoreland Co., PA. Jacob Leighty moved from PA to OH, then to IL about 1838. We have info on his descendants, but cannot trace his ancestors. Jacob and Sarah's children were Sarah Lavina (may have d. in PA), John (1814-1905), Jacob (1819-1895), Mary (d. at 4 yrs.), Peter (1823-1898), Joseph (1827-1847), William (1829-1898), and David (moved to CA and lost contact). Floyd Harold Leighty has compiled a book The Genealogy of the Jacob Leighty Family of Fayette County, PA. However, this Jacob Leighty lived 1748-1814 and cannot be the Jacob Leighty we are searching. We have searched many areas and always search for variations in spelling, such as Leithy, Leight, Leighy, Leichti, etc. Any help or suggestions would be appreciated. – L.L., Mt. Carmel, IL.

A. – While there were no official birth records being kept in 1789 Pennsylvania, there are many sources that may be of help.

The quarterly, Lancaster Legacy, has a lot of helpful data in it. It is available from Southwest Pennsylvania Genealogical Services, P.O. Box 253, Laughlintown, PA 15655.

The most extensive index we have seen on Pennsylvania sources is the four volume, Guide to Genealogical and Historical Research in Pennsylvania. It is published by the Hoenstine Rental Library, P.O. Box 208, Hollidaysburg, PA, 16648. This is a surname index to over 2,700 sources. The publisher rents out many of the books indexed. You will also find them in many libraries. A brief check of the set shows a total of 36 Leighty listings and 46 Leidy listings.

Another very good index for the 1700s and early 1800s is the American Genealogical and Biographical Index. This is a first and last name index. It contains over 160 volumes and is still being published.

You may find these sources at the Lewis Historical Collections Library at Vincennes Univ. or at the Willard Library in Evansville.

Searching for parents

Q. – According to family and service papers, my g-grandfather, Alexander Slater was b. May 10, 1822 in York, PA. How do I go about finding his parents names. – B.F., Angola, IN.

A. – Having only a date and a place is not a whole lot to go on but many have started with less than that and been successful. In that period of time there were no official birth records being kept in that area.

Start with the 1820 and 1830 Pennsylvania censuses and note all Slaters in York Co. In the 1830, look especially for one with a son in 5-10 age group. None of this is conclusive but it could give you a lead.

A large amount of York Co. material has been collected and published in the quarterly, Codorus Chronicles. It is available from Southwest Penn. Genealogical Services, P.O. Box 253, Laughlintown, PA 15655.

The Hanover Area Historical Society (York Co.), 113 W. Chestnut St., Hanover, PA 17331, may be able to help.

The LDS (Mormon) records may be of special help here. The nearest to you is probably The Family History Center at 5401 Saint Joe Road, Ft. Wayne (219-485-9581). Call for their hours.

Finally, you should definitely go to the Allen Co. Public Library in Ft. Wayne. It is the second largest genealogy library in the world. They will have the censuses and quarterly publication mentioned above and a lot more.

Halbert's under Cease and Desist order

(Editor's note – Several of our subscribers have sent copies of advertisements they received from Halbert's Inc., of Bath, Ohio. In the March/April 1996 issue of the NGS Newsletter published by the National Genealogical Society, an article describes the procedures NGS, with the support of FGS, took to get a Cease and Desist Order against Halbert's, Inc. Reprinted (in part) is the article from the March/April newsletter).

Halbert's, Inc. of Bath, Ohio, a mail order firm that markets surname products, has agreed to the provisions of a cease and desist order issued by the United States Postal Service (USPS) in November 1995. "Halbert's," "Family Book Offer" and "Historic Book Offer" are trade names used by Numa Corporation of Akron, Ohio.

On March 23, 1995, the National Genealogical Society (NGS), with the support of the Federation of Genealogical Societies (FGS), submitted to the United States Postal Service's Chief Counsel, Consumer Protection, a 120-page report on Halbert's marketing practices with the request that these practices be investigated.

NGS and FGS also launched a "grass roots" campaign to encourage the participation and cooperation of genealogists nationwide. A brochure and companion flyer entitled "PSSST! Wanna Buy Your Name?" were mailed to genealogical societies and libraries. Societies were asked to reprint the cartoon and brochure text in their newsletters. Librarians were asked to post the flyer on their bulletin boards. As a result, many people wrote to NGS and its Ethics Committee about the solicitation materials they had received from Halbert's, and others wrote directly to the U.S. Postal Inspection Service.

On Nov. 21, 1995, the Postal Service issued a supplemental cease and desist order prohibiting Halbert's from further use of certain misleading marketing practices, which included a consent agreement signed by Halbert's. Previous cease and desist orders issued against Halbert's in 1985 and 1988 remain in effect.

The supplemental order issued in November 1995 includes the following Provisions.

- Halbert's was ordered to cease and desist from falsely representing "...that (1) a solicitation for a surname-related product was sent by a relative of the solicitee; (2) a relative of the solicitee was involved in preparing a surname-related publication; or that (3) a relative of a solicitee endorses a surname-related product." The Postal Service contended that the company's solicitations, which advertised books such as The World Book of [surname] and The [surname] Since the Civil War, violated the 1988 consent agreement, because they appeared to be letters from relatives of the addresses urging them to purchase a recently completed book on their family.

- Halbert's was ordered to begin displaying prominently the following disclaimer on any advertising for surname-related publications: "No direct genealogical connection to your family or ancestry is implied or intended."

- Halbert's was ordered to cease and desist from "...representing, directly or indirectly, that advertising has been approved by the United States Postal Service."

The consent agreement entered into by Halbert's in November 1995 contains several other provisions. Halbert's may submit proposed advertising to the USPS General Counsel not more than three times per calendar year to obtain an opinion on whether the advertising violates cease and desist orders. Halbert's must pay $2,000 for each submission to defray investigative, administrative, and legal costs incurred by the Postal Service.

The Postal Service had advised NGS that Halbert's is a member of the Direct Marketing Association and participates in the Mail Preference Service. Anyone who does not wish to receive future mailings from Halbert's can have their name deleted from the company's mailing lists by writing to: Direct Marketing Association, Mail Preference Service, P.O. Box 9008, Farmingdale, NY 11735-9008.

GENEALOGY GLEANINGS

New Publication

The Tejas Gazette is a new Texas genealogical quarterly, edited by Trevia Wooster Beverly, past editor of Stirpes, the quarterly for the Texas State Genealogical Society.

With 254 counties in the state of Texas, a wealth of unpublished material still abounds. The Tejas Gazette will attempt to cover the entire state rather than a single geographical area so this publication will be valuable to libraries with genealogical collections. In the first issue of March 1996, eight counties, Brazos, Cherokee, Dallas, Erath, Galveston, Harris, Martin and Val Verde, are represented.

The standard format will be approximately 50 pages and will include book reviews, queries and tidbits of general information. Each issue will carry a full-name index with a yearly topical index in the December issue. The annual calendar-year subscription is $20; mail to Tejas Publications 2507 Tannehill Dr., Houston, TX 77008-3052.

Marriage records

Since Pennsylvania did not require marriage licenses until 1885, West Alexander, a village near the West Virginia border, became a Mecca for eloping couples from Ohio, West Virginia and other states.

The records of two Justices of the Peace, The Marriage Records of Squires Isaac and Joseph F. Mayes, have been published by Helen L. Harris, CG, Elizabeth J. Wall and Betty T. Patrick. The periods covered are 1811-1844 and 1862-1887.

A copy is in the State Library of Ohio, 65 S. Front St., Columbus, OH.

Misunderstood

People with three names during the Colonial Period were very unusual and it has been discovered that some wills and deeds have been indexed by the occupation and not the person's surname. In 1785, John William Carpenter could very well have been John William, carpenter.

Definition of Civil War Unit Designations

by Harold Wells

(Editor's Note – Harold "Sonny" Wells of Liberty, Miss. is considered by many to be an expert in finding the graves of confederate soldiers who earned the Medal of Honor for service. Wells admits to being a "Civil War Nut" who likes to share his information about the war. Whenever he makes a speech he also has handouts explaining military markings you might find on tombstones while doing research.)

Civil War Unit Designations

Federals – Also known as Yankees
Inf – Infantry, can also be mounted
Cav – Cavalry, can be mounted or dismounted
Art – Artillery, can be light or heavy
Eng – Engineers, road builders, telegraph lines or trains
Reg't – Regiment, part of division comprising several companies
Troop – Same as company, only mounted
EMM – Enrolled Missouri militia, organized unit
Prov EMM – Provisional EMM, Reserves of EMM, on call
Vol – Volunteers, not drafted
VV – Veteran volunteer, serving 2nd or 3rd hitch
Galv – Galvanized-Confederate POWs who served in Federal blue on Western Plains fighting Indians

ful, courteous and careful when loading and unloading our treasures.

Indeed the very last memory I will have of this show is the kindness of one of these young men. He bent the rules to help my much younger struggling son. Danny had been relegated to load a van's worth of stuff into a car. Through circumstances he had to do it himself in the sleet and without even a dolly. Since my disability had forced us to leave early, and his father's beeper had summoned him to snow duty, young Danny was on his own. It is a long walk from where our table was located and where the car was parked. About the third time Danny was gone for so long, I thought something had happened to him. Finally he appeared with this young man also carrying two of our boxes. My thanks to the young man. I hope he did not get in trouble, or if he did I hope the tip covered it. He will never know how much his thoughtfulness meant to both of us.

On Long Island where we have been "malled" to death and "defleaed," in the name of another parking lot, the Hauppague Flea Market and Antique Show will be missed as one of the most outstanding.

To The Editor:

I read with interest Tom Hoepf's recent "Editor's Notes" column on Cave Hill Cemetery and thought I would share the following information with him and readers. Cave Hill is an example of a Victorian Garden Cemetery or Rural Cemetery. Rural cemeteries were created in the early 19th century to handle the overcrowded conditions of churchyard cemeteries in the cities where, because space was at a premium, bodies were frequently exhumed and buried elsewhere. A body could be moved several times before finding a permanant resting place. Health problems arose in the cities due to rodents burrowing into grave sites, foul gases oozing from collapsed graves and decomposing body parts lay in heaps waiting to be burned or buried elsewhere.

To influence citizens living in large urban areas to permanently inter their loved-ones in a privately owned, nondenominational rural cemetery located a few miles outside of town, they were guaranteed that the body would never be disinterred because there would be ample room for long-term burials Since the grave site would be permanant, beautiful monuments were encouraged to be erected to honor the dead. Often roads were constructed that lead directly from the city to the cemetery, and in some cases, special railroad lines were laid so that the funeral party could take the train from the city. Chapels were constructed to encourage funeral services in the cemetery rather than in the loved-ones church. Some cemeteries had crematorium on the grounds.

Rural cemeteries were beautifully landscaped. Greenhouses were erected and several hundred men employed to maintain the grounds. Trees, shrubs and flowers were planted along the many newly created pathways that wound through the cemetery to create an arboretum-like setting. Pathways and roadways were named after flowers and plants (eg. Daffodil Path, Cypress Ave.) Fish and water fowl inhabited the lakes and ponds that were constructed on the property while birds and wildlife inhabited the grounds. Patrons were encouraged to escape the noise and grime of the city and to enjoy the cemetery's rural beauty. Guide books describing the recently erected funerary statuary, the ornate mausoleums, the chapel, etc. were published. These oases of beauty and tranquility were the forerunners of city parks such as New York's Central Park.

Most metropolitan areas east of the Mississippi that flourished in the late 18th and into the 19th century probably have a Victorian Garden Cemetery. Boston's Mount Auburn (the first rural cemetery in the United States), New York's Greenwood, Philadelphia's Laurel Hill, Pittsburgh's Allegheny, Baltimore's Green Mount, Richmond's Hollywood, Atlanta's Oakland, and St. Louis' Bellefontaine Cemetery are just a few examples. The two cemeteries which, in my opinion, epitomize this style, one on a large scale, the other on a smaller scale, are Spring Grove Cemetery in Cincinnati and Oak Hill in Georgetown/Washington, DC. These two should not be missed by anyone interested in exploring the mute treasures of Victorian Garden Cemeteries.

To the Editor:

Your recent issue of May 13, caught my eye, from the letter of Zeb Bafield Jr. of Hallwood, Va. I believe that he has covered the issues (of auction reserves) quite well, but, if only the public would stop and read it, before they attend the next auction.

The first-timers and some of the pros think that the auctioneer is always trying to pull something over on them.

I might suggest that all auctioneers carry the copy of the UCC (Unified Commercial Code) rules with them at each auction that they conduct.

Many times during the year I have had to stop, and read the famous words to them so that they can understand. It only takes a minute of your time, and also leaves a good taste to the bidder who is not informed as well as he/she should be.

I am enclosing a copy of some of the wordage that you might wish to print. It should help our profession.

Don Bates
Newtown, Ohio

The USS 2-328 states:

3. Such a sale is with reserve unless the goods are in explicit terms put up without reserve. In an auction with reserve the auctioneer may withdraw the goods at any time until he announces completion of the sale. In an "auction without reserve," after the auctioneer calls for bids on an article or lot, that article or lot cannot be withdrawn unless no bid is made within a reasonable time. In either case a bidder may retract his bid until the auctioneer's announcement of completion of the sale, but a bidder's retraction does not revive any previous bid – Information prepared for the National Auctioneers Association.

SPECIAL TREAT SET FOR LIGHT-UP-A-LIFE

Saturday,
December 9th,
2:00 PM

Peace Harbor Hospice will have its eleventh annual Light-Up-a-Life service on Saturday, December 9, 2006, at 2:00 PM in the Florence Events Center, 715 Quince Street, Florence. Caroline Hall, a very talented lady, will be the harpist for this event. Caroline has been studying for the past five years with Laura Zaer, concert harpist and professor at the University of Oregon. Prior to her retirement and move from Ventura, CA, to Florence, Caroline was a scientist in rocket guidance for the government Very talented, Indeed!

With Caroline Hall playing the harp and Bruce Jarvis on the flute, this year's Light-Up-A-Life will be very special. The staff and volunteers of Peace Harbor Hospice would like everyone to attend. There is no charge, but it is an opportunity to share a service that is warm, caring and impressive.

The latter part of October the mailers were sent to people in the area requesting donations to Peace Harbor Hospice. The funds derived will be used to provide the patients and their families with goods and services to make their lives more pleasant during those trying times. Medicare requires at least one fund raising event each year and Light-Up-A-Life fulfills that need.
The mailer provides space to request a star to be placed on the tree. Stars of David are also available and will be displayed on a special table during the service. Gold stars (in memory of a loved one) and silver stars (in honor of someone special) will be hung from the tree which will be lighted during the reading of the names of those persons. Please mark your calendar and join us during this meaningful time.

A DAY IN EAST GERMANY WITH ROGER AND BECKY DAVENPORT

by Becky

I was excited about the trip and woke up at 6:45 a.m. --we left by 7:15. As is normal for me, I got lost and led Roger astray; so we arrived at the border at 11 a.m. For some silly reason I was all jazzed up about crossing the border to be behind the "Iron Curtain." So this man takes our passports, glances at them, asks where we're going and for how long, asks a couple of other questions and then hands them back and says, "Go on." We were shocked. It was so simple. There was nothing to it. Roger looked at the woods and said anyone could just walk through them. It's crazy--what is this in America then--a hoax or something? We were laughing and feeling a nice warm breeze from the window. "Gosh, it's warm here in Commie-land," I thought.

Then we both looked up and saw three or four long lines of cars side by side. "Ah, that was the West German border crossing," we thought. Now comes the East German border. It looked like this would be harder. We waited for awhile, and then a young guard asked us for our passports and all the usual questions (note: I've only crossed the one border here and these questions are already usual). Then he said, "No, you can't go into the city for one day." I asked, "How can we go into the city for a day?" He told us we needed visas, which take three weeks to get, or we could get hotel reservation vouchers. Of course, we had neither, so he said we couldn't go in. "Why?" I asked. He laughted a little. It wasn't rude or anything; he just laughed. So I asked, "Can't we get a day visa here?" He said, "Only with hotel reservations." I asked, "Well, how can we get hotel reservations?" He said, "At our travel agent." So I asked, "Okay, where is your travel agent?" He replied, "He is over there, but you can't go there until you fill out these forms." So Roger filled one out, but it was really warm and I was getting sick of waiting, so I walked over to the booth where this man was sitting. Some guard rushed up to me and asked me what I wanted (I don't think I was supposed to go up to the funny little booth.). I said, "I need a pen!" The guard and the guy in the booth, also a guard, both laughed; then there was a pause and then finally the guy handed me his pen. So I filled out my form. Then Roger and I gave them our forms, and he said Roger's had to be done again, as it was in pencil. While Roger was doing this, I noticed that it was actually kind of hot with all the car engines running and the sun. Also I noticed there was a fence on either side of us. The one on the right had barbed wire. Then there were railroad tracks and another fence. There were men in uniforms with big rifles walking up and down the tracks. I didn't see how they could stand it with the heat and their long-sleeved uniforms. They must have been really sweating! After we finished our forms we were allowed to visit the travel agent. He was a man in his early fifties behind a desk who didn't look like he was doing much of anything. But he didn't seem to want to help us, either. Some other guy came in and he made a phone call for him. Then he looked at us and said, "Yes?" I said, "Well, we would like to visit Eisenach for a day." "Impossible," said he. "Why?" I asked. He looked at me like I was queer. "Because it's impossible." "Why?" "Because it won't work." "We just want to go into the city and see the castle and eat and look around and then come back," we said. "Okay," he said, "I can give you a camping reservation, but it will cost you one hundred marks to go in." "Do we have to stay overnight?" I asked. "It doesn't matter to me if you stay or not," he said. So it was clear--we were to exchange one hundred D.M. into D.D.R.

marks. And with another thirty D. M. buy visas and pay another ten D. M. for road tax. Then we could go for the day. We decided to go through with it, even though I had nasty visions that our money was headed straight for Moscow.

They had us down for a two-day trip, as it is not allowed to make a one-day trip. Then we proceeded to another line (with our car now--the travel agent was by foot). We waited in the sun, starting the car every few minutes to proceed forward one more car length. We ate lunch. Then some man asked us for all of our stuff--visas, passports, hotel voucher, and car registration. He sent these things up to the next station by conveyor belt, and we moved slowly forward. Finally we received our passports back with a stamp saying we were admitted for one day. Then we still weren't in! There was another long line for car inspection. I was really bored, so I got out of the car to look for a bathroom. I walked into a building and they told me where one was. I started to go there but the guard stopped me and asked me where I was going. I answered, "Toilet." "What?" he asked. "Toilet." "No," he said, "You may get in your car and sit down." I did. They checked in the trunk and under the carpet. We had just bought this car and there was a newspaper under the carpet. He took it. I asked him to please explain what he could possibly find under the carpet. He said, "No."

Then we found the city. The people were wonderfully nice. We were lost and pulled into a gas station. Someone saw us doing that and stopped, as they knew it was closed, and gave us good directions. Then we stopped for more directions. I asked a woman in her late fifties. She explained to us and then said she could come with us to guide us. She came along--she said she hadn't ridden in such a nice car before. I did notice that most cars in the city were old and ugly. The people seemed kind of poor. There were hardly any new buildings, but it made the town beautiful. I asked the woman if she liked living there. She said yes without noticable enthusiasm and then quickly explained that she was just back from the doctor's for her eye. I told her I hoped she would be well soon. "Maybe it isn't so bad here," I thought.

Then we saw this castle--really pretty. There was a long line to get into the castle. It was pretty boring, as we had to hear it all in German and then wait for the translation into Russian. I noticed that the Russian group didn't look too poor. They looked pretty healthy, in fact. Then there was a line to get into the cafe. Nowhere to sit in the restaurant. And a line at the snack bar. We waited a fair amount of time in the line at the snack bar. No one seemed to have any cares at all how long something lasted. No one worked hard. We both decided that without profit motive, there is no motive for good service. I went nearly bats with all the stupid lines and no one having anything better to do than stand in them. On our way back down the mountain from the castle, I thought of slavery in America and how the slaves didn't want to work hard, either. After all, when they worked hard they gained nothing. Here the people work hard and it is also no better for them. "Just like slavery," I thought. "Someone must be making money," I thought. Maybe the Russians are rich, I don't know. Or maybe since no one works hard, there is no money.

There were two guys hitchhiking down the hill, both wearing bright blue shirts. We gave them a ride. They were friendly and talked a lot to us. I asked them how they liked it. They said it couldn't be worse. The older brother, Ulrich, had tried to run at the border and was caught. He was in jail for eight years, he said. They were really funny and very pleasant about speaking slowly so we could understand. They didn't seem to mind explaining slowly what a word meant or repeating everything. I apologized for our bad accents and worse German. They insisted that it was very good German. Ulrich did most of the talking. He was really expressive and made lots of hysterical faces and gestures. For example, I have this image of him with his hand over his mouth and fingers up over his eyes like bars, so he could explain what jail was to us.

We asked them if they wanted to join us in the museum. They said they didn't want to disturb us. We were delighted that they decided to join us. We were surprised when Andreas insisted on paying for it. We saw old Wartburg cars, which were BMW's before the war. They were okay before the war. The new cars are cheaply made now. But BMW is still a good car (made in West Germany). Then Andreas asked directions and we headed for another museum. Ulrich pulled a small harmonica about two-thirds the size of my baby finger from his pocket, blew a couple of notes, and handed it to me. I said it was cute and played it for a minute, then handed it back. He took my hand, closed my fingers around it and smiled. I said, "For me?" (Sometimes I can be really dumb.) "Yes, please," he said. So I played it for awhile.

When we got to the Martin Luther Museum we looked around and really enjoyed seeing that. We were becoming good friends now, making lots of good jokes together and laughing together--as if we were old friends. When we didn't understand the jokes in German, they would re-explain every word until we got it. They spoke no English, so it was slow, but fun. I was looking at a nice piece of porcelain and Ulrich whispered in my ear, "Do the guards look in your trunk when you cross the border?" Roger overheard. I nodded yes and walked away. He made a disappointed moan. I felt my throat get cloggy and tears come into my eyes. I thought, "I have something that he would nearly die for. Yes, but still I'm not sure what is so bad here." I looked at a picture and blinked a bunch so I wouldn't cry. I could hear Roger explaining that the guards even looked in the motor compartment of the car before us. We bought some books in the museum, as we had all this money that we couldn't exchange back when we left the country. That is illegal, you see. They laughed about the money--called it toilet paper. We walked by a theatre and saw that there was a film "Sinbad" playing. We decided to go in. It was a good film. Again they wouldn't let us pay. Then we thought we'd have supper. We walked around a little. All the restaurants said there was nowhere to sit. I guess you have to wait in line for dinner, too. One place said in half an hour we could come back, so we walked around and looked at the town a bit more.

Off and on the while day I played jolly little tunes on the little harmonica. Also during this time they explained many things to us about the country. Ulrich wants to be a deep sea marine worker, but can't because he has relatives in West Germany. We are supposedly allowed to bring newspapers into the country, but if the East Germans read them, it is trouble for them. People can't buy cars for two reasons: First, a new Wartburg or Tratvolta costs 24,000 marks (about $10,000). We don't have these cars in the states. As explained by Ulrich in sign language and German, if you slug the car, it makes a large hole. The second reason is that there is an eight-year waiting list to buy cars. I asked him to tell me more about when he tried to escape. He said there really isn't more; there are mines that will explode if you try to go through the forest. The guards caught him and beat him up, then handcuffed him and took him to prison.

We went back to the restaurant and the man said there were no free tables, so we went to another restaurant and they said the same. So Ulrich told the waitress that I was his sister here from America and we wanted to sit down. She said, "Five minutes," and then went and asked some people to leave and cleared a table for us. I asked Ulrich why it worked that way. He said it was because we were from a capitalistic country. During dinner we spoke in quiet voices about all the ways we had heard of escaping from the East. Roger and I met someone near where I work who swam the Rhine river and shot the guards. Andreas and Ulrich were excited to hear of the swimming out, but when I said "shot the guards," they looked sad again. They would die to get out but couldn't kill. We had seen a film in America about people who used a hot-air balloon. They were moved by that as they had met the people and knew they had done it. They asked, "Was the film good?" We assured them it was excellent.

After dinner we took them to where they were staying. As we were unable to find Diesel, we gave them all the rest of our money--it's illegal to take it from the country. We said many good-byes and they promised to send us a postcard. They said they wished they could come with us. They wished they had our passports.

On the way out of town, we asked directions and an old man explained. We asked him if he wanted a ride. He was eager to ride with us. I know that these people have never ridden in a Mercedes before. He said he wished he could come with us. He has relatives in West Germany. They can't go visit him and he can't visit them.

At the border they did check in the trunk and the engine compartment and under the carpets and also took out the back seat and looked under there. I fell asleep on the way home but kept waking up and saying to Roger I thought it was so odd not to be able to take money out of the country. I felt sad all over and didn't know what else to say. I was trying to stay awake and help Roger to not be sleepy. But I just couldn't make conversation. All I could think of to say was that it seemed so odd to me about having to buy money and then not being able to keep it. I wasn't really thinking about the money; I was thinking about the tiny harmonica I was holding in my hand.

The next morning I woke up feeling funny. I was in my big warm bed with a big empty place in my heart. There was a harmonica smaller than my pinky on my nightstand, our car trunk was empty, and my eyes were damp. I blew a few sad notes on the harmonica and wrapped by fingers around it tightly. I told Roger I wanted to go back to East Germany but I didn't know why. He said he wanted to go back, too. But I know he was sad, too.

The next couple of days at home we hardly said anything to each other. I think we were both in shock, or maybe there just wasn't anything to say. I cried off and on, too. I could hardly work on Monday. I think back on walking through that pretty town with our new friends and how I played happy little tunes with my little harmonica. I know we'll never see Ulrich or Andreas again. I try to pick up the harmonica now and play it, but all I can do is blow a quiet, melancholy note, and then I start to cry.

Dear Helen,

My Civil War Book was searched for the names Fickle and Wasnich as well as all the variations,including 'Vasnich', as well as possible misreadings, as 'Pickle'. I searched names of soldiers in the Ninth Ohio Volunteer Cavalry in lists of Field Staff, Companies A thru M (There was no Co. J.), Unassigned Recruits and Roll of Honor. (44 pages)

I may have found Elias Fickle in the name entered as Isaac E. Fickle, Company H. (See enclosed photocopied pages.)

William Welden Wasnich was not found, although a Welden is found in CO. H.

There are 811 pages in this volume; so, if there is any other info regarding these names, such as battles fought in, or a company name or number known but not regiment number known, let me know. In any battle people can get separated from their own company and end up in another. I'm no authority on the subject but ran into that in reading about WW II units.

Thanks loads for National Archives info. Looks like we need to let them know that we are watching and we care. See you Friday at Marie Callender's on East Stockton Blvd.

Very truly,

Virginia

Dear Roena,

I'm trying to catch up with a couple Caroline's letters and have generated a few things that I am sending today. One of her questions was the relationship of Rachel Miller, a person we correspond with back in Ohio, and that is the reason for the YOUNG papers.

If you have my H-2093A the enclosed 2093B is same document but generated from information I put into my computer from our own research, mostly Carolines. 2093A was copied from CD of World Family Tree Maker, #2631, and I have no idea who submitted it to FTM. When I sent it out the first time I suggested to take it as unknown research. Caroline found discrepancies in it and I agree with her. If you would prefer to not have any more copies from WFT Est. let me know. (Whenever you see WFT Est. in a document know that it is from CD and do not take it literally, or 'needs more research or close checking'.)

Had a nice visit with Jane Smith last week. We drove over to Santa Cruz to see her grandson and the University campus. Wasn't as bad a drive as I thought it might be, they've beefed up highway 17 over the mountains and it was a right pleasant drive. We stayed over night and had some delicious meals.

Hope the new year is treating you right. So far we're fairing well.

Sincerely,

Helen

P. S. Wayne and I are still trying to get Craig's house prepared for sale. This bit of genealogy is being stuck in between all that. Haven't done any of the SLC stuff yet and the way time is escaping don't know when I will get to it.

Dear Roena,

I hope my letters don't make me sound real stupid, however, when I am trying to figure things out on these new programs I sure do wonder about my capabilities. Will attend a class on MicoWorks 4.0 tomorrow and I have many questions I have not been able to figure out on it. Wish me luck.

Here is what my friend found in her book "Official Roster of the Soldiers of the State of Ohio in the War of the Rebellion 1861-1866. I just notice when logging this in that they were mustered out in North Carolina. Wonder if they had to walk all the way back to Ohio on their own..... Hope this is what you were looking for.

Caroline called before they went to Salt Lake City last Monday. They are really going hard at this genealogy. I am trying to get more done, but seems like I never catch up with all the information you all are sending to me. I see five big brown envelopes over yonder waiting to be filed, and that doesn't count your last one. They, Caroline & Michael, will be in SLC for two weeks.

I have one more page to copy to put in this, so may not get this mailed for a few more days.

Craig and I are going to the VFW tonight for a Corned beef and cabbage dinner. Craig just called to see what time to come over and thought he was getting spaghetti,.but he said he'd eat this. Can't imagine anyone not liking corned beef & cabbage!!!!

Take care,

Love,
Helen
